Governor, Unmoved by Psychological Niceties of Experts, Asks for Old-Fashioned Facts.

SWORN TO UPHOLD
LAW, HE DECLARES

Mrs. Snyder May Gain Delay as Witness in Case of Slay Husband's Insurance.

Albany, N. Y., January 5.—(United News.)—A new art of mental exploitation of psychiatric investigation was lost today in its first test before a governor who asked for old-fashioned facts.

And therein lies the fate of Ruth Snyder, Queens Village mistress of Henry Judd Gray, and the coroner's inquest. To the learning of the new school of brain students, Governor Alfred E. Smith turned a deaf ear at the Snyder-Gray coroner's inquest.

Psychiatric, psychologic and "mental twilight," meant nothing to the governor, who wanted to know in simple language whether the condemned slayers were "crazy, lunatics, imbeciles, or what?"

Relatives Weep at Hearing. When the executive chamber was cleared of weeping relatives of the famous pair, observers could make but one prediction as to Smith's decision—that he would refuse to intervene in behalf of the condemned pair.

Pervently, oratorically, emotionally, lawyers for the condemned slayers of Albert Snyder, art editor, declared them insane. Legally insane, not! But morally and under a new description of later-day findings—yes, crazy and lunatics. The governor spoke for the first time:

"If these people were in the condition you say they were—imbeciles, maniacs, or both, they still could not be executed unless they were so unbalanced that they did not know the nature and quality of the act they did."

New Motion Is Filed. "If they could be executed, all anybody who wanted to commit murder would have to do, would be to get into this condition first."

When the hearing was over, Edgar F. Hazleton, attorney for Mrs. Snyder, hurried to New York with another plan which may delay her execution indefinitely.

He filed a petition with Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy, asking for a writ of habeas corpus. The original action in this case was brought to void the $50,000 policies Mrs. Snyder took on her husband's life before she and her coroner's jury trial of the suit of the Prudential Insurance company, of America, against his client.

Defense lawyers tried every attack on the governor's consciousness, but Smith remained unmoved throughout the arguments. Edgar F. Hazleton.

POLICEMAN 'BIPPED' ON NOSE BY WOMAN AWARDED $3,500

Mineola, N. Y., January 5.—(United News.)—"My nose never will be the same," testified Policeman James Donahue. A jury then awarded him $3,500 damages.

Mrs. Barbara Fritinger, the defendant, was charged with delivering a punch at Donahue when he remonstrated against her conduct in 1925. Her pleadings that she had never hit anybody were disregarded by the jury.

Education Board Will Ask Council For Big Increase

Air Ambassador Makes Detour To Avoid Passing Over Section Where Marines Are Fighting.

WELCOMED AT FIELD BY 30,000 PEOPLE

Continuous Ovation Is Given Lone Eagle During Procession Into City of Managua.

Managua, Nicaragua, January 5.—(AP)—Setting a course from Tegucigalpa, which carried him down the western border of Nicaragua to Leon, and thence to Managua, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, ambassador of good will from the United States, landed on the flying field in the suburbs of the capital at 2:25 o'clock this afternoon. Colonel Lindbergh took the longer route to avoid any possibility of passing over the disturbed territory in the northwest.

Thirty thousand people assembled at the field—most of them were there from early morning—to watch the coming of the "Lone Eagle," which is the name above all others that Nicaraguans prefer to call him. As the Spirit of St. Louis appeared from behind one of the volcanoes, like a tiny bird at first, with an escort of marine planes which had gone out to meet it an hour before, the crowds burst into cheers.

Beautiful serenitas, modestly dressed, forgot the dust and their fine clothes and joined the sprinting masses in the rush to be near the plane when it came to earth.

Good-natured policemen and national guardsmen attempted to restrain the surging crowds, but gave up the task, for it would have been as easy to hold back a torrent. Nicaraguans were not to be stopped today.

The field, more than 100 acres, was marked with flags and banners. Lindbergh, flying swiftly, came directly above the field, circled it several times, and landed gracefully. A huge cloud of dust was stirred up for the grass and vegetation had been burned and scarred by the tropical sun.

A Nicaraguan band played the Star Spangled Banner and there were thunderous cheers from the assembled multitude, with shouts of "Viva Lindbergh," "Viva Los Estados Unidos." The colonel stepped from the plane and was greeted by Dr. Dana G. Munro, the American chargé, who presented Colonel Lindbergh to high Nicaraguan officials and the reception committee.

Given Key to City. General Jose Maria Zelaya, mayor of Managua, presented Colonel Lindbergh with the silver key of the city. Then Colonel Mason Gulick, commander of the United States marines, and Major Rowell, in charge of marine aviation, greeted the flier, who was cheered again and again.

After the presentations, Lindbergh turned and waved cheerily to the crowd. From the flying field, the official party, with the aviator in the place of honor, proceeded by automobile to the station, where it was a continuous ovation all along the way and flowers were thrown in front of and into the car as the Viking of the air passed by and children and adults were lavish in the kisses they threw at him.

The automobile went directly to the historic Campo de Marte, the home of

GEORGIA LEADS U. S. IN LEGION GAINS

Membership Increase of 62 Per Cent Was Recorded During 1927; Enrollment Now 5,361.

Georgia led all other states in the percentage of membership gain for the American Legion during 1927, according to returns from national headquarters received Thursday by State Commander Asa Warren Caulder. Georgia, according to these figures, recorded an increase of 62 per cent in membership for the year, with a total of 5,361 paid up members, of which number 982 belong to the Atlanta post.

Intense rivalry developed between Georgia and Florida during a recent membership drive, it was stated, but the figures just released show a substantial victory for this state, with Florida's gain given as 35 per cent and the total membership at 4,973.

Plans are now under way by the Atlanta post, it was announced, for the erection, some time in 1928, of a clubhouse in Piedmont park, with club rooms, gymnasium and general recreational facilities for all members.

The local post reported the most successful year of its existence during 1927, a splendid record of service to ex-servicemen, men and their families having been achieved, in addition to the heavy membership gain.

'THE FOX' PLEADS INSANITY ON NEW MURDER CHARGE

Confessed Slayer of Los Angeles Girl and "Pal" May Testify Against Each Other.

Los Angeles, January 5.—(AP)—Legal authorities tonight predicted that William Edward Hickman and Welby Hunt, confessed accomplices in crime, might be enemies when tried for the murder of C. Ivy Thoms, druggist, in connection with whose death they today were indicted.

The prediction was based on the plea that Hickman made today to the indictment when attorneys frequently have announced his 16-year-old child would make when arraigned. Hickman pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity, a plea slightly different in wording and considerably so in procedure from his plea of not guilty by reason of insanity entered to the indictments charging him with the kidnapping and slaying of little Marian Parker.

Hunt's attorney has announced that the boy would plead guilty to charges arising from the fatal shooting of Thoms during a holdup staged by the two youths. Court attaches interpreted this to mean that the youth, two years Hickman's junior, would testify against the latter in the trial scheduled for February 1.

By reason of his plea, Hickman first will be tried on the question of his guilt and if found guilty then will be given a sanity trial. Because the California law regarding insanity defenses was only recently enacted, considerable confusion resulted in the plea entered today by Hickman. The court attorneys said the plea definitely tonight when they said the plea was not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity.

In the murder of Marian Parker, to which Hickman pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity, he will be given a sanity trial alone, and if found guilty he will be brought before the judge for sentence in the same manner as though he had pleaded guilty.

Complications Develop. Trial of Hickman on the Thoms murder charges hinges in some respects on the outcome of the Parker trial. If found sane and sentenced to pay the death penalty in that case, attorneys said it was questionable what action would be taken in the other case. However, the fact that Hickman is charged jointly with Hunt in the Thoms slaying, offered other complications.

At the arraignment today, Jerome Walsh, Hickman's attorney, told the court he believed it probable that a postponement might be necessary in the Thoms trial since his young client's sanity trial in the kidnapping and slaying is set for January 25 and probably would not be completed by February 1.

Hunt's attorney declared he would insist on what he termed his client's constitutional right to a separate trial on the charge of the murder of the druggist. He also declared he would attempt to have the youth tried in juvenile court.

MARION HARRIS GRANTED DIVORCE IN CHICAGO COURT

Chicago, January 5.—(United News.)—Marion Harris, the actress, was granted a divorce today from Rush Hughes, adopted son of Rupert Hughes, the novelist.

Miss Harris charged desertion and non-support. They were married March 7, 1923, and separated September 1, 1925. She was granted custody of their son, Rush, Jr., 2 years old.

Scientists Act to Make London Fogless Utopia in Five Years

SEE EVERY HOME FLOODED WITH SUNSHINE

London, January 5.—(United News.)—Scientists hope to make London a fogless Utopia within five years, while the medical profession looks to the day when every English home will be flooded with sunshine.

An official of the East Greenwich coal station, which is investigating the London fog situation, has revealed that 80 per cent of London's apparent fog is nothing more than smoke suspended in air.

"When howl come to realize that most of London's fogs are caused not by Divine displeasure, but by their own ignorance," he said, "they may agree at least to sweep the skies with their own brooms."

"A fogless London eventually will be brought about by the use of coke in the home instead of coal. I can predict a virtually fogless London within five years."

School Budget Calls for Expenditure of 29.8 Per Cent of Revenues of Atlanta.

121 NEW TEACHERS DECLARED NEEDED

Mayor Ragsdale Tells Board He Feels Confident Council Will Give Every Cent Possible.

Adoption of a budget for operation and maintenance of an adequate educational program in the Atlanta public schools for 1928 amounting to $3,334,565.17, an increase of $369,654.34 over the amount spent during 1927, featured a special meeting of the Atlanta board of education Thursday afternoon in council chamber.

The budget represents 29.8 per cent of the city's gross estimated income for 1928, according to officials of the administration department of the school system.

Higher Revenue Urged. Under the plan, the schools receive a minimum of 26 per cent of the city's revenue, and up to this time the board has spent the money in any way it pleased. Under a recent amendment authorized by the voters, however, the school budget is to be submitted to council and approval of the mayor.

Necessary before it can be put into operation. Since the new plan gives city council and the mayor a direct hand in school affairs, the board hopes to obtain approximately 30 per cent of the city's income. A number of council leaders have expressed themselves in favor of such a change.

Anticipating a large increase in school population with the opening of the second semester in February, at least 121 additional teachers will be required, the budget sets out, and total cost of instructional services will be $2,431,590.69. Last year $2,458,736.25 was spent by the school department. Salaries of teachers alone will amount to $2,250,773.80, against $2,133,311.99 last year.

Only 16 of the proposed new teachers will be negroes, according to the budget. The others will be white teachers, 18 of whom are to be added to junior and senior high schools to meet the standards set by the conference of the Association of Accredited Schools and Colleges.

At the present time the number of students taught by the individual teachers is considerably in excess of the teaching "load" as fixed by the association, and the sizes of the classes must be reduced to prevent overcrowding. Atlanta's stand in the association, it was pointed out.

Other outstanding provisions of the budget show it will take $182,354.17 to maintain the schools in 1928, as against $53,285.80 in 1927, an increase of $129,068.20; $195,343.75 to operate plants this year, against $155,500 for 1927; $300,000 for capital outlay this year, as against $5,352.40 last year, and $72,040.23 for operation of the business administration department this year, against $68,657.34 for 1927.

No Changes Made. Members of the board voted to adopt the proposed budget, although there was some discussion on certain contemplated expenditures, not a single slash was made in the budget.

An exhaustive study of the sheet was made by each member of the board and each item explained and voted on separately. It was then voted to refer the budget to the finance committee of city council it can be thoroughly explained.

Raymond R. Ritchie, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs, outlined the method by which the figures in the budget were reached, and with Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, answered all questions of members. Nothing is included in the budget which possibly could be eliminated.

Stranded Belgian Naval Training Ship, Manned by Cadets, in Danger of Rocks, S O S Says.

Palm Beach, Fla., January 5.—(AP) Stranded in the northwest section of the middle Bahama Island group, the Belgian naval training schooner, L'Avenir, was broadcasting S O S calls tonight, according to word received by the Palm Beach radio station.

The Tropical Radio Telegraph company at Hialeah picked up messages from Nassau saying the L'Avenir was on a sand bank east of Nassau. A tug has gone from Key West to assist the schooner, radio messages indicated. Sixty Belgian naval students are on the training ship.

OFFICER BARES Government Firm DEFECTS IN S-4 About Nicaragua, CONSTRUCTION Despite Criticism

Commander Tells Naval Board Probing Disaster That Submarine Equipment Also Was Faulty.

Salvage Fleet Forced To Take Refuge in Harbor; Three Experts Cited for Bravery.

Boston, January 5.—(United News) Discovery of certain defects in both the construction and equipment of the S-4 just prior to the disaster which brought death to the submarine's crew of four was revealed today at the naval inquiry of the accident.

Commander Edmund W. Strother, of submarine Edson 12, to which the S-4 was attached, offered the results of an inspection made last October. Replying to a question put to him by Commander Leslie E. Bratton, judge advocate, Strother said he found the submarine in excellent condition. He followed this statement by testifying that few cells were needed in the 120-cell battery, that the "C" and "O" air compressors were defective, and that the shutters of the torpedo tubes did not work properly.

Later Strother identified and read an official report on the S-4's condition, which stated that the shutters on the torpedo tubes were unsatisfactory.

After a conference with the judge advocate, the witness ran rapidly through a list of other defects, some of which he said had been repaired. Strother testified that there was a defect in the design of the clutches, not only on the S-4 but on all "S" boats.

According to Strother, Commander Roy K. Jones, of the S-4, told him at Portsmouth, N. H., on December 15, that he was having trouble with the air compressors of his submarine. Jones said, however, he hoped to have them repaired shortly.

Jones left Portsmouth at noon on December 15, Strother testified, despite the fact that he was not due in Provincetown until the 17th, and could have remained at Portsmouth another day.

Air Purification Poor. At the request of Bratton, Strother produced a letter from the navy department answering a request for air purification apparatus on the S-4. The letter stated that the work was contemplated during the fiscal year of 1929.

Under cross-examination by Thomas J. Doyle, counsel for the crew of the S-4, the witness said he did not believe the condition of the submarine action should have been filed. Dr. Hauser, a dentist at North Wilkesboro, was charged by a man named Becker with being guilty of misconduct. Hauser employed the firm of Hayes & Jones to represent him, declaring that the charge was an effort to extort money. At that time, Hayes was solicitor of the district, whose duty, it was asserted, was to prosecute the case, but the law firm recommended that a cash settlement be made and the Hauser family sold their home in North Wilkesboro in order to raise the necessary $1,000.

Nestor declared that in October, 1924, he purchased a half-gallon of whiskey from one Ben Eller, declared a notorious bootlegger throughout the hearing today, while Hayes looked on from the Eller porch.

BILL INTRODUCED TO BUILD VETERANS' HOME IN ATLANTA

Washington, January 5.—(AP)—A national home for soldiers and sailors of all wars would be erected at Atlanta, Ga., under the terms of a bill introduced today by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia. The measure would limit the cost to $1,000,000.

A movement to secure for Atlanta a national home for soldiers and sailors of all wars was started three years ago at a convention of veterans of the Spanish-American war in Chattanooga, Tenn. The movement has been sponsored by the United Spanish War Veterans and various other organizations. Many of the city's leading civic clubs have voiced their approval of the movement.

FOES ACT TO OUST U. S. JUDGE IN N. C. ON RUM CHARGES

Allege Coolidge Appointee Also Was Involved in Extortion Plot Linking Woman and Dentist.

Washington, January 5.—(AP) Protests against confirmation by the senate of Johnson J. Hayes as federal judge of the middle district of North Carolina, now serving under a recess appointment, were filed today with a senate judiciary subcommittee by a group of North Carolina citizens.

Corruption and extortion while a practicing attorney were alleged, together with wrongful use of his office as solicitor of the seventeenth judicial district of North Carolina and sinking at liquor law violations. Hayes served as solicitor of the seventh district from 1914 to 1926.

Partner Also Attacked. At the same time, it was charged, he was a law partner of John R. Jones, practicing under the firm name of Hayes & Jones, which, because of alleged corruption and extortion in settlement of criminal cases, it is contended, became known in that section of North Carolina as the "Hayes-Jones combine."

During a hearing Mrs. L. A. Hauser, of North Wilkesboro, testified she and her husband, now dead, were advised in 1921 by the firm of Hayes & Jones to settle a case of what she termed blackmail for $1,000 when Hayes, as solicitor, should have prosecuted the case. S. D. Nestor, of Cranberry, declares that he purchased liquor in the presence of Hayes while he was solicitor.

Woman Physician Called. Mrs. Mary M. Sloop, a practicing physician of Crossmore, held the center of the stage with reference to charges of overlooking liquor law violations.

She said that she took an active part in obtaining evidence against alleged bootleggers in her county, but found it hard to obtain indictments and prosecutions because Hayes apparently endeavored to represent the bootleggers rather than prosecute them.

Several alleged cases of settlement of criminal actions through the firm of Hayes & Jones, which Hayes as solicitor was supposed to have prosecuted, were put into the record, but it was brought out on cross-examination that many of the cases no criminal action should have been filed. In the alleged blackmail case, Dr. Hauser, a dentist at North Wilkesboro, was charged by a man named Becker with being guilty of misconduct. Hauser employed the firm of Hayes & Jones to represent him, declaring that the charge was an effort to extort money. At that time, Hayes was solicitor of the district, whose duty, it was asserted, was to prosecute the case, but the law firm recommended that a cash settlement be made and the Hauser family sold their home in North Wilkesboro in order to raise the necessary $1,000.

3-POWER NAVY CUT SEEN BY JAP ENVOY

New York, January 5.—(P)—The belief that the United States, Great Britain and Japan eventually will reach an agreement for the limitation of auxiliary naval craft was expressed tonight by Tsumo Matsudaira, the Japanese ambassador, speaking here at the annual dinner of the Japan society.

Failure of the Geneva conference he termed a "matter of genuine regret," but declared he was reluctant to believe that it had accomplished nothing. "On the contrary," he continued, "none of the three powers considered it as the final rupture of negotiations on the important subject it dealt with. The responsible leaders of these countries are unanimous in the belief that the views, fully and frankly exchanged, in the end will have helped to iron out the difficulties with which the participating countries were confronted."

Turning to the situation in China, the ambassador said that Japanese policy there has been "guided by moderation and conciliation, tempered with genuine interest in the independence and integrity," and dictated by a desire to preserve peace in the Orient.

While the Japanese government has announced, he said, that Japanese lives in China will be protected, no policy of aggression has been adopted.

First Year of Married Life Is Danger Zone, Lawyer Rules

Paris, January 5.—(United News.)—The first year and from the fifteenth to the twentieth years of married life are the most difficult.

By far the greater proportion of divorces, the whole world over, within those two danger zones; and of these divorces, 60 per cent come to childless families. That is the conclusion of ten years study by L. F. Nafziger, most prominent of the colony of American divorce lawyers in Paris who has done much to relieve painful weddedness during 30 years.

He engineered the trips through the divorce mill of the William Vanderbilt-Virginia Fair; Marilyn Miller-Jack Pickford; Mary Hay-Richard Barthelmess; Maude Parker-Richard Washburn; Child marital discord. Among Nafziger's clients have been Mae Murray and Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

"If a couple lives through the first year without too much discord, their chances of staying married all their lives are 70 per cent good," Nafziger told the United News today.

AMERICAN FOREIGN INVESTMENTS HIT NEW HIGH MARK

Washington, January 5.—(United News.)—American investments abroad reached a new high mark during 1927 of $1,574,960,575, according to tentative figures issued by the commerce department.

Foreign securities offered by American underwriters during the year had an aggregate net value of $1,376,592,875 as compared with $1,164,460,650 for 1926, which was a net increase of $212,000,000.

However, it costs no more to dress correctly than to wear obsolete styles—merely a matter of individual preference.

U. S. TO PUSH HUNT FOR 'TEAPOT LOOT'

Washington, January 5.—(United News.)—The senate went on record today as unanimously favoring further investigation of the Teapot Dome affair to learn who received nearly $8,000,000 of the profits from the mysterious Continental Trading company, which has figured in the famous Sinclair case.

But after adopting the Norris resolution, it was discovered that the resolution carried no funds and the senate reconsidered its action and sent the measure to the committee on audit and control, in accordance with senate routine. Sentiment in the senate being unanimous, adoption of the resolution is now only a matter of a few days apparently.

Fall Received $230,500. Of the $8,000,000 in profits, $230,500 of Liberty bonds were received by Fall soon after turning Teapot Dome over to Sinclair. The supreme court said the concern was apparently created for some illegitimate purpose.

All attempts to get further light on this mysterious concern has been blocked. Soon after the senate began its Teapot Dome investigation four years ago the company's records were destroyed. It was organized as a Canadian concern, although its only known transactions were conducted in New York. Those involved have refused to testify. They are either defendants like Harry F. Sinclair, or else have fled the court and refused to come back to the United States.

Seek to Sue Jurors. Meanwhile at the district court-house a few blocks away, Martin W. Littleton, one of the national known leaders of the bar, hired by Sinclair, said today that if Sinclair took his advice he would sue members of the grand jury which returned presentments against Sinclair and six associates in the Teapot Dome jury shadowing case.

Littleton has studied the precedents and says that several courts have held that a presentment not accompanied by indictments is libelous. The local district attorney refused to comply with the pending contempt cases.

Sun Is Minimum. The board of education submitted the budget calling for $3,134,568.17 as a minimum sum for operation of the schools with the request that council set aside a guaranteed appropriation for this amount instead of a percentage of the gross revenue from regular sources. The motion was offered by William T. Hancock and seconded by W. W. Gaines.

A pay roll deficit of $48,196.78 is faced by the school department, Mr. Hancock said, which was not caused by the board in operation and handling of the school funds, but was due to a decrease in amounts expected by the board from the appropriation of the city council.

In 1927 the school department asked for $3,138,716.46 for operating expenses and received $2,764,913.83, according to school officials.

Want Stipulated Amount. The attitude of the board as expressed by its members is that if council gives a stipulated amount to carry on the school work, the board will be able to keep expenditures within the limits set.

A resolution was passed notifying the finance committee and city council that the school department faced the $48,196.78 deficit with the request that council appropriate funds to wipe out the deficit.

The school department has $52,974.53 in the hands of the city comptroller. After deducting Lindbergh's paid voucher for $101,171.31 leaves this deficit to be met. A part of this deficit is due to the automatic teachers' salary scale placed in operation February 1, 1926. It was pointed out that the deficit was not caused by the board.

Salaries for teachers for December were not voted on by the board, action being deferred until council has decided on the budget and resolution regarding the deficit.

Parent-Teachers To Attend. Every patron of the city schools interested in an adequate budget for 1928 is requested to attend the meeting of the finance committee of city council at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. This request was made by the Atlanta Parent-Teacher council at a conference held in Rich's schoolroom following talks by George Powell, newly-elected chairman of the board of education and ex-Councilman H. C. Russell.

Mr. Powell stated that the board of education proposed to offer a budget fair to both the teachers and the taxpayers, and that he was sure city council would provide funds necessary for proper functioning of the system. Mr. Russell, citing recent appropriations granted by council for municipal parks, said the city government was proud to have the public will whenever that will was properly expressed.

Mrs. Charles J. Foster, president of P. T. A. council, calling attention to the election of January 12, urged all citizens to exercise the privilege of the franchise.

W. A. Sifton, superintendent of schools, announced that February would be Georgia month in the Atlanta schools. Among plans outlined were pilgrimages made by pupils to historic spots in the state and to homes of famous Georgians. The council endorsed the movement to purchase the home of General John B. Gordon as a historic shrine. Use of Georgia products will be sponsored by the members of the association.

"Lindy" Wins Many Aliases In Flights to Other Lands

New York, January 5.—(P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, accumulating medals from the governments and titles from the people of the places he drops in on, soon will have almost as many affectionate aliases as he has decorations.

Since last May, when he qualified for all his medals and his later titles, he has run the scale from the "Kid" and "Slim" of the air mail service to "Nino Marcellini" (marvel child), coined by his admirers in Honduras. Starting his flying career as "the Kid" he was, he became "Lucky" Lindbergh by going to the head of the class of the Caterpillar club when he made four parachute descents from planes.

Later a letter was prefixed to make "Lucky" read "Plucky" Lindbergh. The entirely complimentary term, "The Flying Fool" was high tribute paid the flier by his all-weather buddies who carry the mails through the air. This appellation has been eliminated from the long list since it was subject to misconstruction and there were so many others it was not needed. When he dropped out of the sky on Curtiss field, after an amazing flight from San Diego by way of St. Louis, his intimates knew him by the nickname "Slim." The flight fans took him to their hearts and called him "Lindy."

RECORD CROWD GREET'S LINDBERGH

The Nicaraguan president, Adolfo Diaz, who was waiting. The president greeted the flier most cordially, expressing his pleasure at his safe arrival and promising that the Nicaraguans would do everything to make his visit worth while.

The president and the unofficial ambassador chartered for a few minutes in English, as Senator Diaz speaks English fluently. Then came introductions to the members of the cabinet, and after that he appeared on the balcony of Congressional hall in the national palace and addressed the people.

RECORD CROWD GATHERS GREET'S LINDBERGH

The crowd assembled before Congressional hall when Lindbergh appeared on a balcony there was estimated to be the largest crowd that ever had gathered in Managua.

Jose Andres Urtecho, minister of war and foreign affairs, presented the American flier to the Nicaraguan republic. After describing Lindbergh's feats as "without parallel" and telling him that Nicaraguans felt exceedingly honored in having the opportunity to welcome him to their country.

Lindbergh's speech was: "Ladies and gentlemen: I want to thank you all for the welcome I have received here today."

VOTED GOLD MEDAL BY FEDERATION.

Paris, January 5.—(United News.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh will receive the gold medal of the International Aeronautic federation for the outstanding aviation feat of 1927, the federation decided today.

At it gives a stipulated amount to carry on the school work, the board will be able to keep expenditures within the limits set.

BOY SLAYER TO DIE IN 'CHAIR' TONIGHT

Columbus, Ohio, January 5.—(AP)—Indifferent to his fate, Floyd Hewitt, 17-year-old slayer of a mother and her child, tonight awaited death in the electric chair—24 hours away.

His last hope of commutation dispelled by a recommendation of the state's clemency board and Governor Vic Donahey's refusal to intervene, the youthful murderer was non-committal and apparently unworried.

Tomorrow night at Ohio penitentiary he will be electrocuted, the youngest slayer to pay the extreme penalty in the chair. In 1900 a Cleveland youth, one month younger than Hewitt, was hanged.

Hewitt confessed to the brutal slaying of Mrs. Fred Brown and her 5-year-old son at Conneaut, in whose home he was an occasional visitor.

Efforts of defense attorneys to gain a commutation of sentence through appeal to higher courts met with failure. Attorneys, his mother and sister and friends contended that Hewitt was feeble-minded and unable to distinguish between right and wrong.

When told that his last hopes had faded Hewitt said: "I have nothing to say," and immediately became occupied with things in his cell. He showed no emotion.

The clemency board's report, submitted to Governor Donahey's office shortly before noon, concluded by saying:

"Finally, we find no grounds for intervention with the sentence of commutation of the courts in this case."

"The exact hour of Hewitt's execution has not yet been announced. Relatives of the victims in the double slaying and of Hewitt will be barred from the death chamber."

Photographers Award McCrary Highest Honors

Willis McCrary, prominent Atlanta photographer, has been signally honored by the American Institute of Photography in being listed as one of the 140 foremost photographers in the United States. It was learned Thursday when he received a handsome leather-bound copy of "Who's Who in Professional Photography in America," containing his picture and a brief history of his life.

Mr. McCrary's name was the only one selected in a long list of Georgia commercial photographers and was one of a list of 10,000 names, representing all parts of the country, that were submitted to the association. The Institute each year publishes a "who's who" in photography and the selection is made from the photographers' ability, ethics and standards of work.

Not only is Mr. McCrary prominent in Atlanta's commercial photographic circles, but he is president of the Atlanta Photographers' club, state vice president of the Southeastern Photographers' association, state chairman of a $2,000,000 advertising fund for the national association, a member of the Photographers' Association of America and a member of the Business Men's club and the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. McCrary has the distinction of having twice won the highest award in the gift of the national association. In 1926 he was awarded a certificate of award at the national convention in Chicago and two of his three photographs were selected to be used by the traveling loan exhibits of the association as the best photography work in America. Again, in 1927, his work was given the highest award, and under rules, it is said, which were much stricter than ever before. The awards were made last year at the annual convention in New York and each photographer was permitted to send only three of his best photographs of the year. One of Mr. McCrary's work was selected for the traveling loan exhibits of the association and another was given a mark of excellence, the highest rating for photography work in America. Only a limited number were selected to receive the mark of excellence.

The photographs selected by the traveling loan exhibits of the national association are exhibited in practically all of the leading cities in the country and at various art and photographic conventions.

The "Who's Who" will be presented to the library of congress, in Washington, D. C., the Royal Photographic society of Great Britain, the Graphic Arts exposition in New York city and a large number of other selected organizations in recognition of the work of the 140 men and women.

Mr. McCrary began his photographic career about 20 years ago when he saved up 1,000 tobacco tags and secured a small box camera in his native town, Cartersville, Ga. He became interested in the work and, after several months, traded the box camera for a larger instrument, with which he began to make pictures on a small commercial scale.

He later moved to Rome, Ga., and entered business and after five years of successful operation he moved to Atlanta in 1907 and established a business here. During his residence here, Mr. McCrary has made more than 40,000 prints and has on file pictures of the most prominent business men of the city.

About four years ago Mr. McCrary moved from his previous location to his present establishment at 1132 Peachtree street.

MAN, WOMAN HELD IN AUTO THEFT AFTER ACCIDENT

Fort Valley, Ga., January 5.—(AP)—An automobile that turned over near here late last night, pinning three men and a woman under it, today proved to be the property of the state health department in Atlanta when its engine number was given that department over long-distance telephone today, and was identified, despite the fact that the Georgia tags on the car had been changed.

J. W. Hicks is held in jail here today, while his wife is being held at a local hotel. Officers are seeking the other two men, said to be John Granger and Horace Irwin, who escaped when left with the car last night while Hicks and his wife were brought here for first-aid treatment.

The woman admitted today that the car was stolen, officers said.

NAVY RECRUITERS SIGN UP 16 MEN

Sixteen recruits for the United States navy, three of them ex-navy men, enlisted at the local navy recruiting station during the first week of 1928. It was announced Thursday. This leaves a maximum of 20 to be enlisted during the remainder of January, the local allotment being limited to 36 a month.

The local recruiting station, headquarters for the 10 stations in Georgia and Florida, has been in charge of Lieutenant Commander Glenn B. Strickland since December 31, when he relieved Lieutenant W. L. Travis. Lieutenant Commander Strickland is a native of Georgia, having been born in Duluth, Ga., June 27, 1886.

BENT IS MIDVILLE'S MAYOR, FIFTH TIME

Midville, Ga., January 5.—(Special.)—H. F. Bent was elected mayor of Midville today, for the fifth time. Also re-elected were Councilmen J. E. Cross, W. E. Baxter, W. C. Mulling and R. L. Winburn.

HARRIS RECEIVES COTTON PROTEST

Washington, January 5.—(AP)—A drop of $3 to $3.50 per bale in the price of cotton January 3, attributed to a statement by the department of labor predicting an increase in acreage, was protested in a letter received by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, from G. Arthur Gordon, of Savannah, former president of the Savannah Cotton Exchange.

The Gordon letter stated that a New Orleans bulletin that day gave information that cotton "was being sold on a statement from Washington that the department of labor predicts increased acreage in every state in the cotton belt."

Upon inquiry at the department of labor, Senator Harris was advised that the department gave out no such information or statement, and denies any responsibility in the matter. The department of labor did, however, issue a report as to general conditions, especially with reference to manufacturing and coal mining in Alabama, saying, regarding agriculture, that "there would be a diversification of and an increase in acreage."

Cotton, Senator Harris was told, was not mentioned, and the department did not have the staple in mind when the report was issued.

M'LENDON URGES OWNERS TO AVOID AUTO LICENSE RUSH

Automobile owners of Atlanta are urged to obtain 1928 automobile licenses as quickly as possible, if they want to escape the inconvenience of the final week's rush for tags, in a statement made public Thursday by S. G. McLendon, secretary of state.

During the last few days the congestion at the capital is at its height and applicants are forced to wait several hours and stand in line for long periods before they are able to obtain their tags. This condition cannot be remedied, as accurate records must be kept of each car, according to Secretary McLendon.

"Come early and avoid the rush" is a slogan which should be read by every automobile owner of Fulton county, said Secretary McLendon.

GIRL FLIES FROM GOTHAM TO MIAMI "JUST FOR FUN"

Miami, Fla., January 5.—(AP)—Miss Ruth Nichols, young sports enthusiast and society woman of New York who yesterday made the first non-stop flight from New York to Miami "just for fun," tonight started home by train, convinced by the experience that the day of week-ends in the tropics sandwiched between business weeks in the regions of the north is not far distant.

She got her biggest thrill in the flight from beginning a day with a gray sub-arctic dawn and ending it in the red and gold beauty of a tropical sunset.

Captain Joe Donnellan, air pilot who is scheduled to make a 1,000-mile tour of the Latin-American countries, will hop off from Chicago at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and arrive at Candler airport at 4 o'clock that afternoon, according to a wire received Thursday by Harry O. Mitchell, district manager of the department of commerce. Captain Donnellan was prevented from taking off last Sunday by the blizzard.

ATLANTA'S CRIMINAL COURT FINES $132,850

Fines and bond forfeitures aggregating $132,850 were collected during 1927 by the criminal court of Atlanta, or approximately $45,000 more than the operating cost of the solicitor's office, it was estimated Thursday by Carlton W. Binns, solicitor.

While the number of cases tried was about 500 less than in 1926, exactly 200 more straight sentences were meted out by Judge Jesse M. Wood last year than the year before, Mr. Binns said. Approximately 60 per cent of the cases last year were prohibition violations, and the remainder straight prison sentences were believed to indicate a more rigorous prosecution of this type of offenders.

Solicitor Binns said, 6,158 cases have been disposed of, resulting in imposition of 1,201 straight prison sentences, 2,535 fines, 471 forfeitures, 393 cases not prosessed, 467 placed on the "dead" docket, 900 bond forfeitures and 453 persons placed on probation.

There were 121 cases of abandonment of children handled during 1927 by G. A. Maddox, county probation officer, while his office collected $18,891 for the support of abandoned minors, Mr. Maddox said.

Fear Foul Play In Disappearance Of Decatur Man

Alarm for the safety of G. A. Street, Decatur citizen missing since early Wednesday, was voiced by members of his family late Thursday when police reported that no trace of the aged man could be discovered. The family fear that he has met with foul play.

Street, who is 71 years old, was last seen when he drew $750 from the National bank and told the cashier he was going to pay interest and part of the principal of a loan held by the McKinney Investment company.

Street never reached the offices of the investment company and no word has been received from him since.

"I am certain he would have let me know where he was if something hadn't happened to him to make communication impossible," Mrs. Street said with four lips.

Street moved to Decatur last summer from Conyers, Ga., where he had been a jeweler for the past 34 years. He is described as being two inches high, weight 230 pounds, blue eyes, bald, and walks with a slight limp in the right knee. He wore a watch which carried the letters of his name, "George Street," around the dial.

A friend of the Street family reported that he "thinks" he saw the missing man on an Atlanta street car about 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, but the family believes this report to be a case of mistaken identity.

OHIO DEMOCRATS DRAFT POMERENE

Columbus, Ohio, January 5.—(AP)—Former United States Senator Alton Pomerene and Former Congressman George White, of Marietta, will be the first and second choice of Ohio democrats for the presidential nomination.

Lacking an avowed candidate for the presidency in the state and being obliged to have some declared candidate to give authorization for the selection of convention delegates, the former senator was drafted today by his party to fill the role.

Though formally pledged to support Mr. Pomerene, the delegates will have fulfilled their pledge when they cast a complimentary vote for him. They then will be free to support other candidates.

The other candidates, in accordance with "a gentlemen's agreement" between friends of Governor Donahay, who is a receptive candidate for the presidency, and friends of Senator Pomerene, an avowed supporter of Governor Al Smith, of New York, and instructions by the state central and executive committees are to receive the state delegation's support so long as they have a chance of being nominated. This agreement is intended to take care of Governor Donahay, should his name be presented to the convention.

Presented with a recommendation that Senator Pomerene be endorsed as Ohio's democratic "favorite son," the central and executive committees in joint session made quick work of making the endorsement unanimous.

REPUBLICAN BODY TO MEET SATURDAY

Preparations for selecting Georgia's delegates to the republican convention, to be held in Kansas City, Mo., on June 12, 1928, will be made at 10 o'clock Saturday when the central republican committee meets at the Fulton county courthouse to set the date for the state convention.

There will be four delegates named for the national convention by the state convention and four alternates from the state at large.

The committee was called into session by Roscoe Pickett, chairman, who has held that position for the past three years. His call for the meeting Saturday states that the body may handle other business that may become necessary.

DOUBLE MURDER CHARGED TO DIXON

Wrightsville, Ga., January 5.—(AP)—Henry Dixon, already in jail on a warrant charging murder in connection with the killing Sunday of Alston Haines, will face double charges of murder in superior court here in March, as a result of the death Monday night in a Sandersville hospital of Will Haines, brother of Alston.

Both cases will be presented to the grand jury with request for indictments, officials announced today, although no warrant will be issued for the death of the second man. The warrant under which Dixon is now held was issued at the direction of a coroner's jury Monday, following investigation of Alston Haines' death.

The brothers, proprietors of a local barber shop, were taken for a ride in Dixon's automobile Sunday. When next seen they were lying beside the highway some distance from this place. Alston dead and Will unconscious. The heads of both had been badly battered by a heavy club or some other blunt instrument.

DECATUR BEGINS LUNCHEON SERIES WITH MEET TODAY

The first of a series of luncheon meetings of Decatur business men will be held in Decatur today at the Hotel Candler at 12:30 o'clock, according to announcement Thursday.

Robert Ramspeck will preside at the meeting, and it is hoped that those in attendance will follow through with the series.

The principal reason for the luncheon series is for discussion of various Decatur civic problems and round-table discussion with civic betterment for Decatur in view.

JOHNSON, STIGALL
CLEMENCY ASKED

Extension of executive clemency to Wade Johnson, condemned to execution in Jones county, and to E. C. Stigall, former Atlanta policeman, who is serving a 15-year sentence, following his conviction of killing W. H. Hames, of Atlanta, was recommended Thursday by the state prison commission.

In the case of Johnson, who was convicted of a criminal assault on an aged white woman, the prison commission recommended that the death sentence be commuted to life imprisonment. Johnson was convicted jointly with Jarrett Binford in the assault case and both were condemned to death. Governor Clifford Walker commuted the sentence of Binford to life imprisonment. The recommendation was made in favor of Johnson because of the previous commutation of the sentence of Binford and because of the additional fact that his father had taken out money papers against Johnson prior to the deed.

The Stigall case and trial was one of the most sensational ever held in Atlanta as it involved many local political angles. Stigall killed Hames at the corner of Houston and Courtland streets on August 17, 1923. Stigall was formerly head of the vice squad of the Atlanta police department, while Hames was a private detective. Stigall contended that he shot in self-defense, fearing that Hames would shoot him, but it developed that Hames was unarmed at the time of the slaying. Stigall was sentenced to serve a term of 15 years. Several prominent members of city council aided in his defense.

In the Stigall case the prison commission recommended that his sentence be commuted to present service, which would free him on the date the governor grants such a commutation.

JOHNSON IS HELD

IN MACON JAIL.

Macon, Ga., January 5.—(Special.) Wade Johnson has been held in the Bibb county jail here since his arrest, on May 19, 1924, for the assault upon an 80-year-old Jones county woman. He is sentenced to be hanged in Jones county on January 20.

He, with Jarrett A. Benford, co-defendants, were tried a few weeks after the commission of the crime and sentenced to hang for the assault. Benford was granted a life sentence last year by Governor Clifford Walker. Since his conviction in 1924, Johnson's attorneys have carried the case through the highest courts in the land in an attempt to secure a new trial and save the defendant's life. The case has been dismissed in all and the judgment of the Jones superior court upheld. The case was dismissed from the United States supreme court on the grounds of a lack of jurisdiction. The latest appeal was to the United States circuit court of appeals, which refused to take action in the case. Since the commutation of Benford, who is at present serving a life sentence on the Hall county chaingang, much of the opposition to Johnson, among the Jones county citizens has been alleviated. Most of them hold the opinion that since his pal was given a life sentence that it would be unfair and unjust to hang Johnson.

MARAUDER PREYS
ON COLLEGE BOYS
OF TWO SCHOOLS

A burglar with a penchant for collegiate victims was sought by police Thursday, after reports of successful raids upon dormitories at Emory and Georgia Tech were turned in.

At Emory, Bernard DeWitt, freshman from Orlando, Fla., awoke Thursday morning in his room in Alabama hall to find that he was poorer by $55, the amount taken from his pocketbook by the marauder. Jimmy Frink, football player, was the sufferer at Tech, missing a pair of trousers, $10 in currency, a check for $30 and an expensive fountain pen. At Tech, the alleged burglar was seen by several students in the dormitory building, one being awake when the man entered his room. The intruder calmly apologized, however, and said he was looking for another man, giving a name unknown to the student.

MASONS PLANNING TO AID TUBERCULAR
CHILDREN OF STATE

Erection of a cottage for children at the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Alto will be proposed at a meeting of a state Masonic committee to be held in Atlanta Friday, it was announced Thursday by the state board of health.

Plans call for construction of a building to cost $100,000 which would be devoted to exclusive use of children suffering with tubercular affections. J. P. Faulkner, of the Georgia Tuberculosis association, will meet with the committee. Funds for the building are to be raised among Masons of the state if the plan is adopted.

Newly elected officers, Dr. J. F. Messick, of Emory university, president; Judge John D. Humphries, vice president, and Fred L. Williams, Jr., secretary, will be duly installed. Dr. Durham will speak on "The Influences of Astronomy," following which the society will discuss plans for the proposed observatory.

GEORGIA ALUMNI LUNCH
TO BE HELD JANUARY 13

Postponement of the regular monthly informal luncheon of the University of Georgia Alumni club, usually held on the first Friday in each month, until Friday, January 13, was announced Thursday by W. Henry Smith, secretary.

An interesting entertainment program is being arranged and the association will continue the policy adopted during 1925—that of not allowing lengthy speeches and refusing to make any assessments or collections from the membership except for the charge of the luncheon.

BOLDING BECOMES LAW FIRM MEMBER

Announcement was made on Thursday of the formation of the law firm of Howell, Heyman and Bolding, as successors to the firm of Dorsey, Howell and Heyman.

The old firm was organized by Judge Rufus T. Dorsey and Albert Howell, thirty-nine years ago, the personnel of the firm being augmented from time to time by the addition of Colonel P. H. Brewster, Arthur Heyman and Governor Hugh M. Dorsey. Although Judge Rufus T. Dorsey died many years ago his name has been retained in the style of the original firm.

Colonel Brewster died several years ago and ex-Governor Dorsey, shortly after his return to the practice, was elevated to the bench. On this account the successor firm was made up of the surviving partners of the old firm with the addition of Mark Bolding, who was assistant attorney general of Georgia for many years, resigning that position to accept a connection with the firm of which he now becomes a member. The law offices of the new partnership will continue for the present in the Connally building.

Miss Lena Madson Phillips, of New York, national president of the Business and Professional Women's club, will be a visitor in Atlanta Saturday for several hours en route to Macon, where she is to address a statewide meeting arranged by the 12 affiliated clubs of the organization in Georgia.

Miss Phillips will be met by a delegation from the Atlanta club when she arrives at 1:30 Saturday morning. A luncheon will be given in her honor at the Wincoff hotel at 12:30 o'clock and later in the afternoon 25 members of the Atlanta club, headed by Miss Rebecca Shuman, president, will escort her in automobiles to Macon.

Nicaraguan Battle Blamed
CHRISTIANS PLAYED FOR TOLERATING UNDERWORLD
On U. S. Disregard of Law

Lawless, godless America was blamed Thursday night for the Nicaraguan outbreak by Judge Roscoe Locke, associate justice of the Georgia court of appeals, in a stinging indictment of the nation's morals in a sermon at the Baptist Tabernacle.

Judge Locke flayed church members for tolerating the underworld, and called on Christian men and women to marshal their forces to fight the inroads of social outcasts "who prefer a life of crime to one of service and usefulness to society."

The stinging attack was launched as a feature of the revival meeting which he is conducting at the tabernacle where he speaks at 7:30 o'clock each night. He is attracting large crowds of persons despite the cold wave. Special music is furnished by Charles Butler, noted evangelist soloist and Miss Lillian Butler, his daughter, well-known pianist.

POWER EXPOSITION
MAY BE ARRANGED
FOR CITY NEXT FALL

Advisability of staging a great power and electrical exposition in connection with the Southern Appalachian Power conference, to be held in Atlanta next September or October, will be decided by a special committee appointed Thursday by Henderson Hallman, chairman of arrangements for the conference.

The exposition question was raised at a meeting between a group of Atlanta business men and Joseph H. Pratt, chairman of the conference executive committee, held Thursday morning at the Atlanta convention and tourist bureau. Provided the exposition plan is approved, the same committee will arrange all details.

A second committee, headed by Mr. Hallman, will raise $2,000 pledged by Atlanta representatives toward securing the conference, when they attended last year's meeting at Chattanooga.

Mr. Pratt said that the main purpose of the exposition would be to teach Georgia farmers the use of modern electrical developments for rural convenience and farm work. Pamphlets are to be prepared and distributed all over the south, he said.

ness and fails to mete out swift and adequate punishment to enemies of society, that nation is treading on dangerous ground and it is high time it stopped to take stock," the speaker said.

"God has been good to America, but we cannot expect Him to be more patient and generous to us than he has been to hundreds of other nations. The avenues of history are littered with glorious civilizations whose ashes tell mute stories of decay caused by sin. America headed towards destruction."

"Are we permitting ourselves to be lulled into a sense of security because of our luxurious surroundings. The Nicaraguans have attacked us because they believe that if the United States is not able to enforce its laws in its own boundaries, it is not powerful enough to defend its citizens in other countries."

BOLLING DUBOSE
IS MADE ATHENS
MAYOR PRO TEM

Athens, Ga., January 5.—Bolling S. DuBose, son of former Senator R. T. DuBose and great-grandson of General Robert Toombs, was elected mayor pro tem of Athens at the annual meeting of the city council here today. DuBose succeeds Albert E. Davidson, councilman from the second ward. Mayor A. G. Dudley was sworn in as mayor of the city, entering his second term.

The council now comprises H. C. Culp, H. S. Seagraves, A. E. Davidson, H. B. Heywood, C. F. Crymes, George D. Bennett, Vincent Matthews and A. M. Center, R. S. DuBose and J. H. Rucker.

Council elected Mrs. Thomas F. Green to succeed herself as a member of the city-county board of health, the term comprising three years. Simon Michael, president of the Michael Wholesale corporation here, was elected a member of the city bond commission to succeed the late Myer Stern, president of the Athens Savings bank. T. H. Nickerson, Sr., was elected to himself.

It was announced that the city's current indebtedness was reduced about $50,000 during the year.

STEWART HEADS
BOARD OF HEALTH

Walter R. Stewart, newly-elected head of the Fulton county commission, was named chairman of the county board of health at a reorganization meeting of the board, held Thursday afternoon in the courthouse.

Dr. W. Frank Wells was selected vice chairman, while Jere A. Wells, county school superintendent, was chosen as the third member. The newly-constituted board reappointed Thomas E. Lockhart as chief of the county health department and reappointed Captain J. W. Ball, Thomas Cawthon and E. T. Stanley to posts as health inspectors.

A resolution indorsed at the board meeting asks city council and Fulton county commissioners to relieve the congested district outside the city of polluted water, which would require the sewage disposal plants to be moved farther away from the city limits than the present locations.

The report of Dr. L. H. Goldsmith, county school physician, showed that 600 more children were examined last year than in 1925, with a decrease of 2,140 physical defects in the children examined last year, compared with 1925.

Chief Lockhart stated that health

Never Returned

Got Entirely Rid of the Disease After Suffering 17 Years.

Asthma sufferers will be deeply interested in a letter recently written by Mrs. Mary Bean, Nashua, Iowa. She says:

"I had asthma for 17 years, coughed most of the time and couldn't rest, day or night. I tried everything, but grew so weak I could hardly walk across the room. After taking part of one bottle of Nacor, I could do most of my house work. That was 8 years ago. I recovered completely. Am still feeling fine, with no signs of asthma."

Hundreds of other sufferers from asthma, bronchitis and chronic coughs have reported their recovery, after years of affliction. Their letters and a booklet of valuable information about these diseases, will be sent free by Nacor Medicine Co., 610 State Life Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind. and sanitation conditions of the county are excellent in every respect, with relatively few cases of contagious diseases under his supervision.

The total number of births reported by Chief Lockhart, whose territory includes the city of Atlanta and the incorporated towns of East Point, College Park and Hapeville, was 763, while the deaths numbered 480.

A total of 1,039 calls were answered last year by health officers, the report said.

KIRK, ESCAPED FULTON
CONVICT, RECAPTURED

Amos Kirk, who escaped December 17 from the Miller county chaingang, has been recaptured by Atlanta officers and is being sent back to Miller county, it was announced here Thursday by the state prison commission. Kirk was serving a sentence of from seven to ten years, the commission said, following conviction of robbery in Fulton county, and at the time of his escape had served only about a year of his term.

Enrolling For Business Training Around at The Southern Business College

New Pupils From the City and All Sections Applying for Entrance.

The prospects of the big business year ahead has started many young people toward the Southern Business college, and they are enrolling daily for courses in shorthand, bookkeeping, typewriting, higher accounting and a general business course.

"I have been working here and there for some time, but can get no where in the business world because I have had no special training, so I am now determined to take your complete course and then secure a worthwhile position," said a young man yesterday to the managers of the Southern in their office while enrolling.

"I advertised for a stenographer and spent the whole of Monday trying out applicants without finding one competent to fill the position, when your letter, asking to supply me with competent office help, was received. I then called at your university and your employment department immediately introduced me to a young lady."

Service is what the people want and real service is what they get at the Southern. This is proved by the fact that eighty out of every hundred business men in Atlanta recommend the Southern, to whom ten recommend any other one business school. Try this plan and you'll get into a genuinely good business school.

Don't waste another day. The big things are always done by men and women who do them now. Start your business course next week, but call, phone or write at once and make your arrangements.

Guard Against "Flu"
With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole.

Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Better than a mustard plaster

HOWARD

Advance reports to the effect that "The Private Life of Helen of Troy" is one of the most unusual and striking pictures of the past five years can hardly be denied after seeing the picture at the Howard this week. Al Short and his Melody Boys are presenting on the stage "Banjomania," a hilarious comedy, "Cheating Cheaters," which played the Howard several weeks ago, was the first of these presentations, and though, decidedly well received, "Banjomania" has been going over even better.

Metropolitan.

Large houses are meeting many good laughs at the Metropolitan viewing the hilarious comedy, "Cheating Cheaters," with Betty Compton and Kenneth Harlan. The story tells of two gamblers who masquerade as society's best, seeking fortune in the New York underworld. In addition to the comedy, the picture is drawing good hands for the picture.

Rialto.

The cast of "The Poor Nut," now at the Rialto theater, includes Jack Mulhall, Charlie Murray and Jane Winton, the featured players, and in addition many comedians and vaudeville recognition such as Jean Arthur, Glenn Tryon, the comedy star; Corbin Keefe, Edna Marion, Maurice Ryan, Henry Victor and Bruce Gordon. Along with "The Poor Nut" is the second of the "Betty Parlor" series, a two-reeler called "The Permanent Wave."

Alamo No. 2.

One of the strongest acts ever assembled in one picture will be seen in "Behold This Woman," a pictureization of the novel by E. Phillips Oppenheim, which will be seen at Alamo Theater No. 2 today. Irene Rich, Marguerite De La Motte, Charles Post, Marie Prevost, Rosemary Thoby and Anders Randolph have the leading roles.

Tudor.

The screen's newest star, Bob Steele, whose amazing exploits in his first screen drama, "The Mojave Kid," is being shown at the Tudor, is the star of "The Bandits' Son," the story of a boy forced to fight taunt after taunt because of his father's reputation. Steele, who is just proving himself all man and comes through in crashing style.

West End.

Lois Wilson as a country girl who makes a success in New York and George K. Arthur as a village snob, who is even funnier than he realizes, are the stars in the film version of the popular musical comedy, "Hello Mamma," which will be shown at the West End for the last time tonight. Fred Thompson, with Silver King, his wonder horse, does some thrilling riding in "Arizona Nights," which will be shown Saturday only.

Capitol.

The screen's newest star, Bob Steele, whose amazing exploits in his first screen drama, "The Mojave Kid," is being shown at the Capitol, is the star of "The Bandits' Son," the story of a boy forced to fight taunt after taunt because of his father's reputation. ## NO SWEEPSTAKES

BY ICE FLOE SAVED

St. Louis, January 5.—(AP)—Two men being swept down the Mississippi river on a barge when a huge ice gorge broke 65 miles down stream, were rescued by the aid of life lines here late today.

The men were on one of thirteen river craft which were torn from their moorings and carried down stream by a current filled with churning ice. Thirty boats and barges were tied up for the winter were grounded as the river stage lowered 9 feet after the jam broke at St. Genevieve, Missouri.

Three Barges Recovered.

Three of the barges which were carried down stream were not recovered tonight. The other ten river craft were either grounded down stream or pulled to shore by river and harbor workers.

When the ice jam let go Henry Thron and John Parker, carpenters, were on one of the barges. Their craft was carried swiftly down stream until it reached Arsenal street, where life lines were thrown to them by men on a boat moored there.

Ice Run Worse in Years.

River men said the ice run was the worst experienced here since 1910. Ice 15 feet deep held back the water, causing the river stage to rise hourly. River and harbor employees were powerless to guard against the rush, and could only wait until the river subsided before beginning their efforts to retrieve the runaway boats and barges.

A crew of 38 men under J. R. Barker, wharf master, were planning to remain on duty tonight and observe the stages of the river with a view of floating the grounded craft in event of a sufficient rise in the stream.

Whippet Enters Low Price Field

Toledo, Ohio, January 5.—(AP)—Formal announcement of the perfected Whippet, the prices of which were given to the press on Tuesday following a general dealer convention of Willys-Overland dealers at Toledo, Ohio, was made this morning in the largest newspaper announcement campaign ever made by Willys-Overland, incorporated.

With the new prices the Whippet is definitely established in the price range previously occupied by Ford alone. Reductions of the Whippet range as high as $200 on the cabriolet coupe models in body design.

In the low price class it is commented on that the Whippet is offering full force feed lubrication and that the tire sizes are larger.

Modifications include a new body with a military rod line and a cadet type visor to accord with the latest style developments in body design.

Added equipment includes an automatic windshield wiper, rear vision mirror and combination spot light and rear driving light.

Speed and economy records given by Willys-Overland for the Whippet include a 3,555-mile record in the 24-hour road race at New York under the official observation of the A. A. A. in which a fuel record of 43.28 miles to the gallon was set. An official speed record of 71.6 miles an hour was made by the Whippet on Rockingham Park speedway under official observation in body design.

All models of the perfected Whippet are now ready for immediate delivery according to a statement issued from the factory, which is being forwarded to the greatest year in Willys-Overland history.

TURK POLICE BARE PLOT TO MAKE CAROL RULER

Constantinople, January 5.—(AP)—The Turkish police are reported to have discovered a vast plot for the establishment of a kingdom in Rumania, Prince Carol, in his own country.

The plot is alleged to have been headed by Sabri Bey, a Turkish official, who is reported to have been plotting to overthrow the present Rumanian government and to install Prince Carol as ruler.

The police seized manifestos alleged to have been printed here which the plotters were sending to Dobruja, a province in Rumania, to come to Constantinople and fly from there to Dobruja.

Athens Fire Chief To Be Tried For 'Cussing' Fireman J.B. Farr

Athens, Ga., January 5.—(AP)—Fire Chief G.W. McDorman and Fireman Jeff Graham will stand trial here Tuesday night before the civil service commission. The chief is charged with using abusive language against Fireman J.B. Farr and Fireman Graham is charged with taking part in a gambling game.

A. C. HANCOCK, AGED 51, BURIED IN ATHENS

Athens, Ga., January 5.—(AP)—Funeral services for A. C. Hancock, aged 51, who died at his home here Monday afternoon, were held Wednesday afternoon by Rev. J. C. Wilkinson, pastor of the Athens First Baptist church. Hancock was buried in Ocean cemetery. Hancock is survived by Mrs. Hancock; two sons, J. Harold and Carl Hancock. Hancock was a real estate operator.

INSTRUCTOR HEADS ATHENS WOODMEN

TRADER SUSPENDED FROM CURB MARKET

New York, January 5.—(AP)—Suspension for one year of a regular member of the New York Curb Market was imposed upon Charles Leichter today by the board of governors for violating the rules prescribed by the constitution of the exchange. The action under which the action was taken regulated the conduct or business of members or conduct or proceedings inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade.

Dublin Woman Killed by Grief At Sister's Death

Dublin, January 5.—(AP)—Closely bound to the sickbed in life, Mrs. P. D. Conroy, 47, and Mrs. E. O. Allgood, 41, two sisters living near this city, have entered upon the great adventure of death together. Mrs. Conroy died here at 8 o'clock last night, and Mrs. Allgood, upon viewing the remains of her beloved sister, this morning about 8 o'clock fell into a coma and died at 11 o'clock. Both will be buried in the Gay cemetery at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The bodies will be placed side by side, united in death.

CHEVROLET SPEEDS PRODUCTION PLANS

Detroit, Mich., January 5.—(AP)—W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor company, announced today that Chevrolet's present record production schedule for January has been stepped up 20 percent to meet sales requirements resulting from the spectacular reception accorded the new car. It is expected that schedules for February, March and April will be similarly affected.

Nationwide enthusiasm that greeted the new car is reflected in a factory statement that a vast army of people saw the new Chevrolet at its 1,500 dealer points in the first three days following its introduction.

From coast to coast and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, 1,500 Chevrolet dealers displayed the new car immediately on its formal announcement. Dealers in the north and west started the following morning. Despite snowstorms, blizzards and generally cold weather throughout the country, every Chevrolet showroom was crowded to the doors this week.

In New York visitors crowded the showrooms at the rate of 1,000 an hour, more than 150,000 inspected the cars in Chicago on the first day; 75,000 saw them in Detroit; 80,000 in Pittsburgh; 45,000 in Los Angeles; 25,000 in Dallas, and 22,000 in Denver.

The increase in Chevrolet production, announced by Mr. Knudsen, will be reflected in the new car's factory statement that a vast army of people saw the new Chevrolet at its 1,500 dealer points in the first three days following its introduction.

MACON'S HOLDUP TRIO INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Macon, Ga., January 5.—(AP)—Orville A. Snyder, Alex Matrice and Mrs. Goldie Hines, of Saginaw, Mich., were indicted by the Bibb county grand jury today on charges of highway robbery, in connection with the attempt to hold up an east side filling station Christmas night. Additional charges of assault with intent to murder are named in the indictments against Matrice and Snyder.

GERMANY'S DEBTS EXCEED BILLION, BUREAU REPORTS

Berlin, January 5.—(AP)—Germany's foreign indebtedness at the end of 1927 is estimated by the Reichsbank bureau as between $800,000,000 and $900,000,000 marks, exclusive of the Dawes loan of $500,000,000 marks.

Among the private borrowers, the heavy industries are predominant, while the indebtedness of the chemical and textile industries amounts to only $300,000 and $1,000,000 marks, respectively.

WOULD-BE HERO JAILED ON CHARGE OF ROBBERY STORE

New York, January 5.—(AP)—Martin Cigelski set down the clothes he had packed for Florida and ran to the store to get his money. He was here to pass on the engineers' demand for a 15 percent wage increase.

Daily hearings are being held which are expected to last at least a few weeks. Postoffice inspectors are receiving from representatives of the operators and engineers and labor groups throughout the southeastern section.

DAHLENEGA LOSES $5.80 TAX IN YEAR

Dahleonega, Ga., January 5.—(AP)—The city tax collector for Dahleonega has just made his report and had only one receipt, amounting to $5.80, unpaid. Mayor G. H. Moore and the new councilmen have taken the oath of office. J. F. Davis was named city marshal, other officers remaining as last year.

The amount of funds on hand are double what they were one year ago. The new water works, which were installed in 1927, are giving perfect satisfaction and showing a profit for the first time.

U. S. SENATE ADJOURNS UNTIL NEXT MONDAY

Washington, January 5.—(AP)—With only one bill on its calendar of business the senate agreed to adjourn over from today until Monday.

Besides the lone bill—a bridge bill—granted out of the committee grists of the thousands sent to the senate for preliminary study, the senate also had before it a resolution to declare a policy favoring general reduction in tariff rates.

This resolution by Senator McPherson, republican, South Dakota, which has been causing considerable concern was taken up until Monday with an agreement that it would be taken up for action then.

ESCH NOMINATION

Washington, January 5.—(AP)—Growing dissatisfaction in congress against a policy of the interstate commerce commission which it is contending is a threat to the nomination of John J. Esch, of Wisconsin, as a member of the commission.

Senators from the southern bituminous coal producing states are combining with those from the northern states and some of the western irregulars in what promises to be a bitter fight against the nomination of the former chairman of the commission.

Confirmation Delayed.

The nomination was to have been considered today by the senate interstate commerce committee, but it was over at the request of Senator Goff, republican, West Virginia, who is ill and who sent word to the committee that he wanted to be heard.

One of the chief points of complaint against the former member of congress and co-author of the much-discussed transportation act, is that he changed his position in the long-controversed Great Lakes coal cargo case, permitting the carriers serving the Ohio and Pennsylvania fields to reduce rates to lake ports after the commission once had refused to allow such a reduction.

Rate of Causes Row.

Senators from the northwestern and southern coal field states are aroused because the commission after permitting the cut from the Ohio and Pennsylvania fields declined to allow the lines serving the southern territory to make a voluntary reduction in their rates to the lake ports to meet the demand for coal by the commission for the roads in the competing fields to the north.

YOUTH DROWNS AFTER RESCUING TWO CHUMS

West Fork, Ark., January 5.—(AP)—After he had dived through a hole in the ice and saved two chums from drowning, Jack Walker, 20, of West Fork, was accidentally pushed back into the water by one of the rescued boys and drowned near here today, while a score or more persons looked on in helpless horror. His body was recovered after an hour.

Walker and a group of young persons were skating on ice on a creek near here when two boys crashed through the ice and fell into the water and dragged them, one at a time, to safety. As he pulled himself from the water, one of the boys slipped and fell back into the water, and nearly frozen, Walker was unable to swim and soon sank from sight.

Girls Organize Anti-Lipstick Club in School

Camden, N. J., January 5.—(AP)—Out of 500 girls between the ages of 13 and 16 enrolled in the Hatch Junior high school, Camden, 195 have joined a newly organized nonlipstick club and pledged themselves not to use the lipstick.

The club was organized at the suggestion of Miss Vera Summerell, of the science department, in a health lecture to the girls on the bad effects of cosmetics. The girls have been forbidden to use lipstick since the lecture. A second offering drops her name from the club. Only two girls so far have been dropped.

SMITH ON THE WAY TO WASHINGTON FOR FINISH FIGHT

Chicago, January 5.—(AP)—Ready for a "fight to the finish" for a seat in the senate, Senator Charles W. Smith left tonight for Washington.

Smith, who was elected from Illinois as senator, has been refused a seat in the senate because of charges of using the proceeds of an enormous "slush fund" to win his election. He is to appear before the senate committee on January 11.

COOLIDGE TENDERS FEDERAL JUDICIARY FORMAL RECEPTION

Washington, January 5.—(AP)—The third of the formal receptions of the Coolidge administration was held at the white house tonight, President and Mrs. Coolidge receiving the federal judiciary.

First to be received was Chief Justice Taft, followed by the associate justices of the supreme court. Invitations had been issued to all federal judges, some of whom were able to come to Washington for the event.

BLEASE ACTS TO STOP R

Jones Takes Only Fall in Long Bout With Jim Browning

Scotty Works Fast One To Beat Russian

MacDougal Catches Mickaloff When Latter Isn't Looking and Dumps Him.

Paul Jones, the Texas cowboy who has forsaken pony riding for the riding of grappling partners, again added to his local fame last night at the auditorium when he took the only fall of a two-hour match from Jim Browning, the Wichita giant.

It took the blond lad from the state of long horns just one hour, 28 minutes and 40 seconds to do the job and it was done with his famous body scissors. The balance of the two hours was spent by the pair in the exchange of wrestling niceties such as headlocks, wristlocks and all the other locks of the game, but neither could get a fall.

The match was just as expected—a fine exhibition of wrestling skill and endurance. Many times it appeared that Jones was on the verge of defeat but always he hung by his toes and finally won the only advantage of the long match.

It has been said that "it takes the Irish to beat the Dutch" and it might be added that it takes the Scotch to beat the Russian Jews or whatever may be the nationality of Ivan Mickaloff from Chicago and points north.

Ivan is very keen but not as keen as Scotty MacDougal, the mean laddie who hails from Scotland, according to all reports. Throughout the match "an eye for an eye" and a slap for a slap was the order of events, but near the end of the allotted hour Scotty pulled a ruse on the gentleman from the home of whiskers and coars and it worked.

Scotty pointed to the gallery and yelled, "Look!" About half of the spectators followed his gesture and Mr. Mickaloff did likewise. When the spectators and Mr. Mickaloff looked back from seeing nothing, all of them received a shock, but the brunt of the impact was felt by the grand duke himself. While he was looking away Scotty took advantage of the situation and kicked a couple of Russian feet off the mat and deposited a Bolshevik cranium where the feet had been.

That was the end of the Russian revolution and Scotland became a free state. The fall came in 54 minutes and 56 seconds.

It must be said in all justice to the Russian gentleman that he gave Mr. MacDougal several lessons in wrestling before the Scottish strategy was brought into play. In fact Mr. MacDougal learned a few new tricks about rough tactics at which he was supposed to be a past master if not the grand exalted ruler.

Just 32 minutes and a like number of seconds were enough for John Paxos, a newcomer to Atlanta. The job was done with a series of front headlocks which left the tow-headed grappler about as steady as a groom on his wedding eve.

Tommy Thevenow's Ankle Entirely Well

St. Louis, January 5.—(P)—St. Louis Cardinal scout prospects became brighter today when it was announced that Tommy Thevenow, star shortstop, apparently had recovered completely from the ankle fracture which kept him out of the game a large part of last season.

Tough Battle Looms For Loughran Tonight

Light-Heavy Champ Fighting Toughest Contender "Just To Show Myself I'm Really Champion."

BY FRANK GETTY.
United News Sports Editor.

New York, January 5.—It has taken Tommy Loughran the better part of nine weary years to fight his way to the light heavyweight championship of the world.

And now that he's got it, what does this young Irish lad from Philadelphia do but take on the toughest, toughest challenger in the division tomorrow night "just to prove to myself I'm really the champion."

Win, lose or draw in his 15-round bout with Leo Lonski, of Aberdeen, Tommy Loughran will hear the cheers of the crowd for as game, naive and sportsmanlike a champion as ever drew on a glove.

When Loughran defeated old Mike McTigue, the New York boxing commission declared him light-heavyweight champion and gave him six months in which to cash in on it, without the necessity of even signing for a defense of the title.

Shelley's Slattery.
Within six weeks Tommy had hung what the boys in their quaint vernacular call a "shellacking" upon bouncing Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo, the N. B. A. champion, and now proposes to go out and stop a blond Polek known as the Aberdeen Assassin in a championship fight Friday night.

This Polek, Leo Lonski, is being called a second Stanley Ketchell. He is hardly that, but he is just about the most troublesome light-heavyweight Loughran could encounter.

Forcing the fighting every minute he is on his feet in the ring, this Aberdeen looses a pile-driving right hand punch to the heart and an active Scotty pulled a ruse on the gentleman from the home of whiskers and coars and it worked.

Loughran Popular.
Something in the sheer audacity of Loughran's risk of his title against men such as Slattery and Lonski has won the confidence of the betting public, and the champion tonight is an 8 to 5 favorite. Tommy can out-box Lonski, and is at his best against a fighter who comes towards him. Lonski never moves in any other direction.

The chances are that Loughran will slow down Lonski and outpoint him in 15 rounds. But the titleholder must be eternally vigilant, or the sandy-haired Pole will wear him down and finish him.

It promises to be as good a fight as the 175-pound division has produced since the bloody affairs between Jack Delaney and Paul Berlenbach, back in the days when the new Garden was scarcely a flower patch and there were only 503 millionaires at the ringside.

French Sport Club Must Vacate Quarters

Paris, January 5.—The Sporting Club of Paris-France's national sporting club—has been ordered to vacate its premises, which are situated within the shadow of the Elysee presidential palace. The French civil tribunal issued the order, ruling that an athletic club is "a commercial industrial establishment."

The sporting club's swimming pool, private boxing arena, gymnasium, restaurant and laundry are construed by the French law as infringing the municipal decree of 1847, which provides that the Rue de l'Elysee shall contain only the private residences of families. The 1847 decree reads: "The Rue de l'Elysee must be occupied by bourgeois."

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Proof of the Pudding

Right at this time and in this section the gentle art of fishing seems to be rather difficult with the lakes frozen over and the thermometer romping merrily from zero to the freezing point and back over the same road, but in Florida there is fishing galore and the accompanying photograph proves that such is the case.

The mere catching of a seven-foot sailfin on a rod is not so astounding in itself, but the fact that such a feat was accomplished by Dr. John Powell, prominent Atlanta physician, gives it local color which is not to be denied.

Dr. John Powell is well known to the fishermen and hunters of Atlanta who belong to the Izak Walton league, but just in case some of his friends do not know that he is truly a disciple of Izak Walton, we reproduce the photograph of Dr. Powell and his huge sailfin caught near Fort Lauderdale.

DR. JOHN POWELL.

On this same trip Dr. Powell caught a barracuda on rod and reel that was declared by natives to be the largest ever caught in those waters by the angling method.

Dr. Powell is one of the members of the Izak Walton league who really believes in the power and influence of the organization and never misses an opportunity to get his hand in any move the league is making to improve fishing and hunting conditions in Georgia.

The name of Dr. Powell has been suggested for the presidency of the league if Trammell Scott refuses to accept another term, but the doctor has refused the nomination and we do not hesitate to hope publicly that Trammell Scott will reconsider his avowed intention of leaving the presidency at the next election. He has made a good president and will continue to do so.

Oakland Buys Meusel.

Oakland, Calif., January 5.—(P)—Emil "Irish" Meusel, former New York Giant outfielder and last season with the Toledo American association club, was signed today by the Oakland Pacific Coast league team.

Meusel hit .257 for Toledo last year and could have returned to that club but preferred to play ball on the coast. His services were sought by the St. Louis Browns, Milwaukee Braves, San Francisco Missions and Seattle teams, as well as by Oakland.

MACK LOOKS FOR TIGHTER RACE IN '28

Philadelphia, January 5.—(P)—Connie Mack, veteran leader of the Athletics, is one manager who has resolved the New York Yankees won't make a runaway of another American league pennant race next season.

Mack, beginning the twenty-eighth year of his reign as manager of the Athletics, sees a tighter American league race for 1928, and figures every club, including his own, has made great strides in strengthening its team.

The Athletics, who finished in second place last season, made two trades bringing Outfielder Bing Miller back to Philadelphia and adding Ossie Orwall, Milwaukee flash, without apparently detracting from their strength.

Not only does Mack believe the Athletics will be stronger from a playing standpoint next season, but he figures Washington, with young pitchers and stronger than ever, as one of the most dangerous teams in the circuit. Also, he has considerable respect for the pitching prowess of the Chicago White Sox.

With a slightly remodeled baseball machine, the Athletics will enter the 1928 American league pennant race with their hopes wrapped up in youth. Joe Hauser, back from Kansas City, will plug up a big gap at first base and Miller, traded to St. Louis in June, 1926, and recently brought back in a trade for Pitcher Sam Gray, will be in left field.

Most of Mack's veterans, including Zack Wheat, Babe Doll Jacobson, Ty Cobb and Chick Galloway, have been discarded.

Much of the Athletics' baseball future depends on the ability of Hauser at first base. A leading first sacker until he broke his right knee cap in the spring of '25 Hauser has spent the past two years regaining use of the damaged knee.

The Athletics' spring lineup will be Hauser, first base; Bishop, second base; Jack Raley, shortstop, and Sammy Hale, third base. Their average age is only 28 years and they have played together long enough to become a machine.

At Simmons, the brilliant young outfielder and sensational hitter, will exert in center. Miller will be in left, but right field is a toss-up between Bevo Lebourveau, caught from Toledo, and Walter French, former army star.

The experienced catching staff comprises Micker Cochrane, Cy Perkins and Jimmy Fox, who has just turned 20 but has been with the Athletics three years.

The pitching problem has been somewhat relieved by the purchase of Ossie Orwall, Milwaukee's combination southpaw hurler and outfielder. Joe Bush, a veteran of five major league clubs, has been taken on.

The slingers are the veterans Jack Quinn, Howard Ehmke and Edwin Rommel, right handers, and Bob Walberg and Lefty Grove, southpaws as well as a flock of youngsters.

Avera Meets Shepherd At Ringside Tonight

Good Set of Prelims Arranged for Bout—Postponed From Tuesday Because of Cold Weather.

Larry Avera, junior welterweight champion of the south, gets his delayed crack at Jack Shepherd, from the middle west, tonight at the Ringside club. The two rivals clash in the 10-round main event of a fight card that was postponed from Tuesday night because of cold weather.

Present indications are that both the weather and the fights tonight will be reasonably warm. Shepherd and Avera are both veterans and Shepherd is aggressive enough to make Avera fight his best battle. Larry is always much more interesting when pitted against a man of Shepherd's style and skill.

Avera is popular with the Atlanta fans considering the fact that he has had very few fights here recently. His last local engagement netted him a well-earned decision over Spike Webb, the well-known middleweight.

Matchmaker Jimmy Mayson is of the opinion that he has arranged a good set of preliminaries for the fight card, which altogether calls for a total of 30 rounds.

The semi-swing of eight rounds finds Battling Stein pitted against the clever Casey Jones and that promises to be a battle from the first until the last, as Stein is anxious to wreak vengeance for a defeat that he suffered at the hands of Jones in their only other meeting.

Wood Pace meets Young Fisher in one of the six-rounders. In the other prelim of the same length Ad Thaxton tackles Jerry Sands.

Georgia Five Leaves For Florida Trip

BURBERRY

THE COAT OF KINGS--

It is itself—No other coat is like a Burberry. It has a personality... an air...

Made of the finest long staple Australian wool; woven in the historic mills of England; tailored by Burberry in the shadow of London—

Worn by kings and princes, and by the Napoleons of industry on both sides of the Atlantic; here is a coat of prestige and rare performance—

Note the ease of it; the spontaneous becomingness of its free, boxy-hang, and the raglan shoulders—

THE BURBERRY OVERCOAT

This is a coat you will like to the limit—It is shown now in pre-spring weights; in patterns unusual, and very much to your liking. Wear one—from this day, on... for the comfort, the pleasure and the sheer satisfaction that this means to you!

You Can Win $2,000.00

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION'S "COW" FIGURE GAME

$2,000.00 First Prize — $1,000.00 Second Prize — $500.00 Third Prize

Twenty-five Cash Prizes in All---Amounting to $4,515.00

This is your opportunity to use your spare time to advantage. These big cash prizes are going to be given away to the lucky winner, and no one has a better chance than you if you will only make the proper effort. The object of the game is to see how much you can make the "COW" weigh by filling inside of the border representing the cow with figures "9's." Now isn't that simple?

How many times can you write by hand, using a lead pencil, the figure "9" inside the border forming the cow outline? The sum total of the number of the "9's" that you put in the cow picture will represent your answer or what you give as the weight of the cow. For example twenty "9's" will be 180 pounds; one hundred "9's" would be 900 pounds, etc. Can you write in one hundred "9's," two hundred, or how many? The person having the greatest number of "9's," that is, the largest sum total, will win first prize, second largest second prize, etc.

NOTE: While there are three cow pictures given in this announcement, so a contestant may have plenty of material to work on, only one cow picture is to be submitted with a solution.

This space must not be detached from the cow.

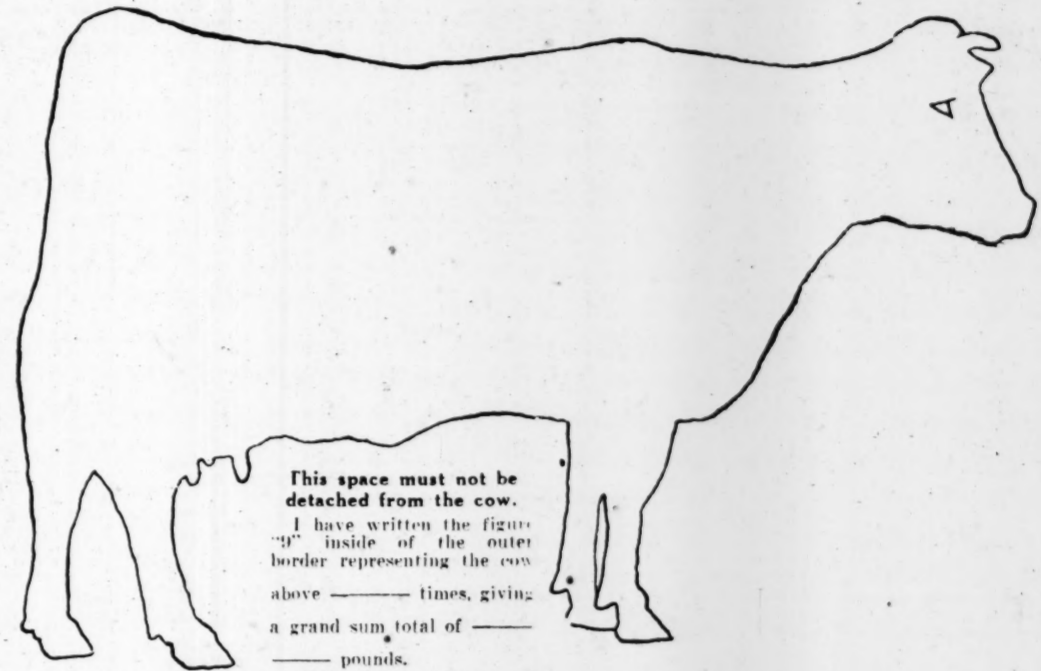

I have written the figure "9" inside of the outer border representing the cow

pounds.

(NOTE: Write your name and complete address plainly on the white margin in front of the cow.)

This space must not be detached from the cow.

I have written the figure "9" inside of the outer border representing the cow

pounds.

(NOTE: Write your name and complete address plainly on the white margin in front of the cow.)

Observe These General Rules of the Contest:

1. All bona fide residents of Georgia and adjoining states may take part in this contest, except employees of The Atlanta Constitution and members of their families.

2. Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire, provided payment of one of the three amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one award, since registered, a solution cannot be changed.

3. The first prize will be awarded to the person having the greatest sum total, which is to be determined by the sum of the figures "9" written in the space designated inside of the border forming the outline representing the cow; to the second greatest total second prize, third greatest total third prize, etc.

4. Any lead pencil may be used. All writing or drawing pens of artists or engineers or their like are barred, as ink cannot be used on this grade of paper without blurring. The figures "9" need not be perfect in shape, but must be complete. Write as small as you like with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make, and must be discernible to the naked eye.

5. Complete type, shorthand, reproductions or reductions, are barred, also duplicates of the original. Every "9" must actually be made by hand with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make, and must be discernible to the naked eye.

6. Every contestant must give the correct total of the weight of the cow in the answer submitted by him. This weight of course is the sum total of the "9's" he has written in the figure representing the cow. This is important. Your name and complete address must be plainly written on margin of sheet, which your answer is given, or blank printed for that purpose, or a blank of your own selection attached hereto.

7. In case of ties, while there is hardly a chance in 10,000 of a tie, as many awards will be reserved as there are people tied, before any awards are awarded for ties correct solutions, another puzzle will be submitted to the tied ones on the same order of this one, except a smaller "cow" picture, after which should ties still result each contestant will receive the full amount of the prize tied for.

8. Only one prize will be awarded to a person, household or group of persons. Any person or household or group of persons submitting duplicates are barred.

9. The decision of The Atlanta Constitution must be accepted as final and conclusive in all matters, and participants by sending in their answers agree to accept the decision of the contest manager as final and conclusive.

10. The Atlanta Constitution reserves the right to reject at any time any solution which it believes has violated the rules. The solution of the winner of first prize will be reproduced in The Constitution, together with the published result, which will be published as soon as possible after the closing date of the contest.

11. All answers will receive the same consideration, regardless as to whether or not a subscription for the daily and Sunday Constitution be sent.

12. The contest is open to new and old subscribers alike. The regular subscription rate of $5.00 for six months' subscription or $9.50 for 12 months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution will prevail. Daily only subscriptions or tri-weekly subscriptions not acceptable in this contest.

13. Full amount of subscription must be remitted in every instance. When sent through an agent, postmaster, or otherwise no commission can be deducted. In column 2 of prize list, six months' subscription referred to can be either new or renewal; column 3, 12 months' subscription $9.50, can be either new or renewal. Column 4, requiring two annual subscriptions, one can be a renewal, but one must be new. A new subscription means one who is not now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, directly or indirectly through any source, and has not within the past 60 days.

14. Subscriptions secured by the means of this contest in Atlanta and suburbs will be delivered by carrier service. In towns outside of Atlanta, where The Constitution has carrier delivery service, the paper may be delivered by carrier, upon request of the subscriber or contestant; otherwise the paper will be sent by mail.

15. A person who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, and paying the carrier or agent by the week or month, or otherwise, may send or bring directly to The Constitution a six or twelve months' payment to qualify a solution. Whatever is due such carrier, dealer or agent at that time must be paid to him as the remittance. Renewals on mail subscriptions will be extended for the length of time paid for from present paid date of expiration. All qualifying subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance.

16. Contest closes Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. All solutions delivered in person must be at The Constitution office by 9:00 p. m. of that date, but may be mailed any time before midnight. Solutions mailed at any post office in Georgia and adjoining states bearing postmark of no later date than midnight February 8th, 1928, will be accepted if rules governing same are complied with. The contest extends from Wednesday, January 4th, 1928, and including Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. Five days will be given thereafter for those who have not fully qualified for the larger prizes to do so, after which no further qualification remittances will be accepted.

The above rules are simple, easy to understand, and contain all the information that can be given on the contest except that which appears in the announcement of which this is a part.

How Much Can You Make the "Cow" Weigh?

THAT'S THE PROBLEM!

Copyrighted, 1928, by The Atlanta Constitution.

TRY YOUR HAND AT IT BY WRITING THE FIGURE "9" AS MANY TIMES AS YOU CAN INSIDE THE BORDER LINE OF THE "COW"

Inside of the border line of the "COW" you are to fill in the figure "9" as many times as you can. When you have them all written in, add them. That will give you your answer to "HOW MUCH CAN YOU MAKE THE COW WEIGH."

Every "9" stands for nine pounds, and the total of "9's" that you have written in the cow space is your weight record.

This space must not be detached from the cow.

I have written the figure "9" inside of the outer border representing the cow

pounds.

(NOTE: Write your name and complete address plainly on the white margin in front of the cow.)

How to Win $2,000.00

It is not necessary to send a subscription, but by qualifying your entry into "How much can you make the cow weigh" game with one or two subscriptions, you can increase the amount of the prize money that you will receive if you are a winner. For instance, the first prize is $35.00, but if winner of first prize has qualified with one six months' subscription, the prize will be $250.00 instead of $35.00. If qualified with one year's subscription the prize will be $1,000.00 instead of $35.00; or if qualified with two annual subscriptions the prize would be $2,000.00 instead of $35.00, and so on with proportional increases throughout the entire prize list. In all there are 25 prizes, as shown in this announcement.

$35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize (the person having the largest sum total in the cow picture) if no subscription is sent to the daily and Sunday Constitution.

$250.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one six months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution with $5.00 remittance is sent, new or renewal; second prize $200.00; third prize $100.00, etc. (See second column in prize list.)

$1,000.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one annual subscription, new or renewal, to the daily and Sunday Constitution is sent with $9.50 remittance;

second prize $500.00, third prize $250.00, etc. (See third column in prize list.)

$2,000.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize, provided two yearly subscriptions to the daily and Sunday Constitution are sent, one of which must be new, at $9.50 each, total remittance, $19.00; second prize, $1,000.00; third prize, $500.00, etc. (See last column in prize list.)

Be sure to write your qualifying subscription on a separate sheet of paper from the "cow" picture, giving your name and address as well as the name and address of each subscriber. Remittance should be sent by money order, personal check or bank check. Currency should always be registered.

CLOSING DATE

THE "HOW MUCH CAN YOU MAKE THE COW WEIGH" GAME CLOSSES WEDNESDAY, FEB. 8TH, 1928.

NO SOLUTION CAN BE CHANGED AFTER IT HAS ONCE BEEN REGISTERED.

If you find that you can make the cow weigh more than the first solution which you sent, the only thing you can do is to send in another solution, which must be qualified independent of the first solution submitted. In other words, the qualification of one solution already submitted cannot be transferred to a later solution.

IMPORTANT FACTS TO REMEMBER!

While the amount you pay with the solution does not have any effect on your winning an award. It does affect the amount you will receive should you win one of the awards, as the value of these awards is determined by what the winners pay. This is explained in the prize list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

Address your solution, remittances, etc., to the Contest Manager, Daily Circulation Dept., The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

GET OUT YOUR LEAD PENCIL NOW!

If you make the proper effort and fully qualify your solution it may mean $2,000.00 to you.

$500.00 Extra First Prize for Promptness

If you send in your solution and full qualification subscription order on or before January 25, 1928, and you win first prize, The Atlanta Constitution will send you, in addition to the first prize of $2,000.00, $500.00 extra for being prompt, making $2,500.00 in all. When you work for a prize, don't be satisfied with anything but the biggest one, which in this great contest, is $2,000.00, plus $500.00 for promptness, total $2,500.00.

With lead pencil to filling in with the figure "9." You will find it absorbing fun, and every "9" that you write in the cow figure takes you further on your way to the big cash prizes that are to be given.

Remember, you may have additional copies of the cow picture by writing to the "Cow Contest Dept." It does not cost you anything to take part and win. You can earn $35.00, $250.00, $1,000.00 or $2,000.00, as explained and shown in the "PRIZE LIST."

THE PRIZE LIST

Note: The value of the prize depends on how much you pay on your subscription with your solution of the figure puzzle. The amount paid will be applied to the daily and Sunday Constitution. Daily only, or tri-weekly payments not accepted in this "COW" figure contest.

	Prize if no sub. is sent.	Prize if 1 6 mos. sub. and $4.00 (new or renewal) is sent.	Prize if 1 yearly sub. and $9.50 (new or renewal) is sent.	Prize if 2 yearly subs. at $9.50 each, total $19.00 are sent. One can be renewal and one must be new.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodge, of New York Arrive Sunday for Visit Here

Among the most prominent visitors of the winter season are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dodge, of New York, who will arrive Sunday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Southwell, at their home in the Pershing Point apartments. They will be joined for a brief stay here by Mrs. Lloyd Moore, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who until her recent marriage to Mr. Moore was Mrs. Charles Dodge, wife of the late Mr. Dodge, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Dodge. Mrs. Moore was formerly Miss Jennie Deering Branson, a belle and beauty of Macon, and daughter of the late Solicitor General Branson, of the Macon circuit.

Mr. and Mrs. Southwell will entertain informally at their home Sunday afternoon, honoring their guests, inviting a small group of friends for tea. Monday evening they will be honor guests at a dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Southwell will be hosts at the Atlanta Biltmore. Covers will be placed for Mr. and Mrs. Dodge, Mrs. Moore, Miss Mary Deering Kettles, of Victoria, British Columbia; Colonel Frank Merriam, A. L. Gottsche, formerly of New Orleans, and Mr. and Mrs. Southwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodge maintain a handsome country estate, "Holly-wood Manor," at Lexington, Ky., which is one of the show places of the Blue Grass state and where this popular couple keep open house during the "frolics," being famed for their lavish hospitality. Mr. Dodge, a retired capitalist, owns a large stable and a race track at Lexington, his string of fine trotting horses, having a similar place at Augusta, where his horses are shipped for the colder months.

Mrs. Dodge is an expert in raising flowers, birds, and jerseys and captures national prizes in Kentucky in each of these classes.

Their visit will be marked by other informal courtesies planned in their honor.

Miss Daniel Weds James C. Hood.

Chamblee, January 7.—The wedding of Miss Lucy Irene Daniel, of Chamblee, and James Cecil Hood, of Roswell, was solemnized Saturday afternoon, December 31, at 4 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Daniel, in the presence of relatives and close friends of the bride couple.

The altar before which the marriage vows were read by Rev. Herrin was erected in the living room of ferns, southern smilax and shaded tapers. The bride wore a beautiful ensemble of beige satin crepe with all accessories to match.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hood left for a motor trip to points of interest. On their return they will make their home in Atlanta.

George Niles Recalls Invitations to Party.

George Niles recalls invitations to his birthday party scheduled for Friday afternoon at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. George M. Niles, on East Fourteenth street.

Mrs. Sangs Entertains Hoosier Club Members.

The Hoosier club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. A. Sangs, 688 Pulliam street. Officers elected for the current year include Mrs. A. T. Rowe, president; Miss Nora Kincaid, vice president; Mrs. R. S. Horton, secretary; Mrs. C. C. Myers, treasurer; Mrs. Leonard Stevens, publicity chairman; Mrs. E. H. Bangert, sewing committee; Mrs. E. Reece, telephone committee, and Mrs. Sangs, flower committee.

Mrs. W. L. Patton will represent the club on the Atlanta better films committee.

Mrs. A. E. Ferguson gave a vocal solo. Other visitors were Mrs. W. D. Bailey, Miss Helen Huff and Mrs. R. A. Parrott. Mrs. John Sizoo was taken in as a new member. In appreciation of her services for the past year the club presented Mrs. Rowe with a pillow.

Garden Hills Club Is Credited With Many Achievements

Mrs. L. A. Brannon, Mrs. H. T. Adams, Mrs. Ben Cox and Mrs. Ralliet were hostesses Wednesday at the meeting of the Garden Hills Women's club. Mrs. Jennie Brown, the president, gave an interesting talk on the achievements of the club since its organization eight months ago. Some of the chief activities as summed up by Mrs. Brown are the completion of and payment for a clubhouse and the buying of chairs and a piano for same, donations to the Community Chest and last hospital 48 and caring for a needy family at Christmas.

Activities for the new year were planned and many ideas for money making advanced. Mrs. M. R. Sutherland, Mrs. E. E. Linbaugh, Mrs. T. T. Adams and Mrs. C. C. Cox were appointed a committee to confer with the workers of the American Rescue mission as regards the most urgent needs of that institution and a donation from the club will be made to this organization each month.

An invitation to consolidate with the North Peachtree Road Woman's club was extended by Mrs. T. T. Adams, president of that club, but it was decided that Garden Hills club continue to function as a separate organization. Mrs. Hazel Roy Butler outlined plans for a class in interpretative dancing. The club plans to sponsor a valentine party for a group of children from some orphanage, with Mrs. Butler as chairman of the entertainment. A masquerade ball will be given at the clubhouse in February.

Mrs. W. C. Roberts gave two readings, "Keep a Going," by our own Frank L. Stanton, was inspiring with being at home after January 15 at 622 Twenty-first street, Santa Monica, California.

Mrs. Luter is an attorney and served as judge of the superior court in Los Angeles last year.

Georgia Products Dinner Served Today at St. Philip's.

A Georgia products dinner will be served today by the Ladies' Aid of St. Philip's cathedral at 112 East Hunter street, including roast Georgia chicken (Poulet country), Georgia egg-bread dressing (country style), gilded gravy (Habsburg), apple sauce, Georgia cold slaw (Dahleberg), Georgia butter milk biscuit, Plate 25c.

Fish Plate—East coast fish, tartar sauce, Georgia creamed potatoes, Fulton county cornstarch. The dessert includes Georgia apple roll, cream sauce, 10c. Georgia butter milk of sweet milk or coffee, 5c.

The committee includes Mrs. Harry G. Greer, chairman; Mrs. Bessie Robertson, co-chairman; Mrs. Eugene Creighton, Mrs. Carroll Smith, Mrs. A. D. Boylston, Mrs. Brader Barker, Mrs. B. L. Owens, Mrs. Fred Williams, Mrs. H. F. Goffrey, Mrs. De Ford Smith, Mrs. W. Ritter, Miss Elsie Prida, Miss Billie Ritter and Mrs. B. Mitchell, president.

Miss Gertrude Murray Is Charming Hostess.

Miss Gertrude Murray entertained at an informal "at home" Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland W. Murray, on Flagler Avenue, in Ansley Park. The members of the Shell club included Mr. Grant, Albert Howell, James D. Robinson, W. S. Elkin, Sr., Harry Atkinson, W. H. Kiser and Robert F. Maddox.

Old Guard To Give January Dinner-Dance.

The Old Guard of Atlanta will hold the annual dinner-dance at the East Lake Country club Thursday, January 19, on which occasion the election of officers for the year 1928 will be held.

This annual affair is a very brilliant one, enjoyed by every member of the Old Guard, their families and friends. W. M. Camp is commander of the Old Guard.

Church Circle Is Given Party.

Circle No. 2, under the leadership of Mrs. T. C. Chambers, entertained Bethany Missionary society at a New Year's party Monday afternoon in the club's auditorium.

During the luncheon Mrs. I. C. Deariso, the newly-elected president, gave a talk on the plans of work for the new year, after which Mrs. H. T. Pratt gave the history of the society.

Mrs. A. J. Irie, past president, gave an interesting talk.

The three newly elected church chairmen, Mrs. L. S. Courser, Mrs. T. C. Chambers and Mrs. W. W. Lee, made talks on plans for the new year. The pastor, Rev. A. A. Tilly, gave some interesting points.

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

Friday morning Reading club meets at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. William H. Kiser, at Knollwood, her home on Pace's Ferry road.

Miss Mary Harvey will entertain the members of the 1927-28 Debutante club at her home on Argonne drive, followed by luncheon.

Miss Florence Eckford and her sister, Mrs. Byron Morrison, of Minneapolis, will be honor guests at the tea at which Mrs. Edward Lewis will entertain at Piedmont driving club.

Mrs. S. F. Boykin and Mrs. R. H. Bennett, Jr., will be joint hostesses at a tea at Mrs. Boykin's home on Ponce de Leon avenue, in honor of Mrs. Hunter Bell, a recent bride.

Teas at the Atlanta Woman's club.

Mrs. Elder's Story Is Published In 'Outdoor America'

The current issue of Outdoor America, a magazine devoted to defending forests, waterways and wild life, carries the article written by Mrs. Omar F. Elder, of Atlanta, entitled "The Flying Tactics of a Famous Fisherman," in which she narrates an interesting story concerning the fishing tactics of her husband, Dr. Elder, one of Atlanta's leading physicians. Mrs. Elder has chosen for her pen name, Mariellen Elder, and her story is replete with action and charm. This is the first story she has had accepted for publication, but there are several under contract which will place her among the clever and brilliant authors of today.

Mrs. Spratlin Named President Of Scottish Rite Auxiliary

Mrs. Frank Spratlin was elected president of the woman's auxiliary of the Scottish Rite Hospital Thursday morning at the meeting held at the Biltmore hotel, to succeed the retiring president, Mrs. Robert Gregg, whose administration was featured with many important measures. The other officers elected to serve with Mrs. Spratlin include Mrs. Edgar Neeb, first vice president; Mrs. Hanson Wright, secretary; Miss Elizabeth Gregg, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Martin, secretary.

Randolph-Macon Girls Guests of Alumnae.

The Randolph-Macon girls who spent the holidays in Atlanta were guests of the alumnae at a Christmas party Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben Hall, on Clifton road. This meeting was for the purpose of bringing the alumnae and the active girls more closely in touch with each other in the interest of Randolph-Macon. Miss Allison Blodgett, president of the club, extended a special invitation to the guests to become members of the club when they have finished college and return to Atlanta to make their home.

The reception rooms presented a scene of loveliness with their Christmas decorations and open fire. The tea table was adorned with red unshaded tapers and green in the center by a miniature Santa Claus and his reindeer.

wards making life more cheerful for the crippled children housed in the hospital. Its primary purpose is educational in scope, applying bedside and occupation teachers for the children, making surgical dressings and taking care of the hospital mendings.

The plan to place a field worker on the hospital staff was the main topic under discussion Thursday morning by this energetic and earnest body of organized women, the duties include follow-up work of patients leaving the hospital. Important in its plan was the phase of hospitalization of over-age girls leaving the Scottish Rite hospital after reaching 14 years of age in order to secure medical and surgical care for these patients.

Interior Decoration Classes Resumed.

Saturday, January 7, the classes in interior decoration at the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., will resume the work started before Christmas, under the direction of Miss Lillian Williamson. On Tuesday morning, January 10, the class under the direction of Mrs. Clegg will begin a new course. The price will be $1 for the course of seven lessons. The public is cordially invited to join these classes. On Wednesday evening, from 6:30 to 9:30 o'clock, there will be a new class organized among the girls and women who are interested and are unable to attend the day classes. Anyone interested will call Mrs. B. C. Kistner, chairman, Henlock 2312 W., and reserve places in any of the classes.

Junior Music Club To Resume Rehearsal And Meet Saturday

The Junior Music club, after a Christmas recess of three weeks, will resume orchestra practice, chorus rehearsal and club meeting Saturday, January 7, according to the announcement given out by Mrs. G. Bingham Bache, the director of the club. Mr. Chase, the director of the orchestra, will begin on the programs of the next radio concert and the spring festival. The chorus, under the guidance of Miss Helen Knox Spain, will take up the program to be broadcast at an early date, which will mark the chorus' debut on the air. Miss Spain will also outline the special programs to be presented at Easter and for the spring festival. Many new features are being planned. The chorus rehearsal will begin promptly at 1:30 o'clock and voice tests at 1 o'clock. Orchestra practice is at 11 o'clock.

The club program will be conducted by the juveniles, with Willatha Goodman, president, Kathryn Donehow, program chairman, has arranged an interesting and varied program built up of solos for the piano, violin, harp and trumpet with a musical story by Mrs. Jane Mattingly, Martha Frisler, who is a pupil of Miss Julia Oliver Eckford, will play Rubenstein's "Melody in F." ## I HAVE SAID IN MY HEART

BY IDAH MGLONE GIBSON.

FRIENDSHIP.

Is there a young man today capable of true and loyal friendship? This is a question put to me by a youth who has just passed through a most devastating experience.

The lad in question is most loyal and true himself. In fact, to speak no ill of anyone is one of his great rules of life. Although he is very popular, there are few men of his own age he calls friends.

Within the last year he made the acquaintance of a young man that seemed to him to be just the person he had been searching for all his life. He found that his young man loved music and art. They discussed books and compared their experiences in far-off places. For this friend the youth in question gave up much of his time. At a cost of his own success he helped the other to achieve, and worked with him to finish a piece of work that was very remunerative.

"It was because I thought he was my friend," said the boy, "that I let him use me to further his own ends."

"I introduced him to people that otherwise he would never have met. I gave him my friendship, which meant that I always had on tap for him the best within myself."

"A few months ago I began to wake up to the fact that this chap was only using me, and, besides that, behind my back was saying not only unkind things, but things that were flagrantly untrue. 'Many times I have determined to just go and push his face in until you could not tell it from the back of his head, but I have been dissuaded by calmer minds. However, I think I shall do it yet.'"

"Today I think I hate him more than I have ever hated anything or anyone, not because he has tried so hard to injure me, but because he has taken from me something that I can never get back again."

"I shall never have quite the same faith in human beings again. I shall always be more or less suspicious of honeyed words, and I am afraid that some day I may lose a real friend, because I will not dare to trust him."

Memo: One swallow does not make a summer—neither does one false friend make all men cads.

DIET AND HEALTH

BY LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Honey in Diabetes?

G. says that she reads somewhere that diabetes could eat honey and not experience the bad results that follow the use of sugar. Is this true?

I can't imagine where you read that. G. None of the authorities on diabetes that I know of makes such a statement. Wilder, in fact, says, in his paragraph on sweetening agents, that the use of honey and glycerine is not recommended. He states that saccharine is permissible, if used in moderation. (Saccharine is a coal tar product, and is 300 to 500 times sweeter than sugar, and some diabetic specialists allow up to two grains a day; others say it should not be used at all. It is apt to become bitter by heating, and should be added to food after its removal from the fire.)

You know the carbohydrates have to be very much limited in the diabetic's diet, and when you realize that the food value of honey is 99 per cent carbohydrate, you will understand that it is not reasonable to think a diabetic could use it with no bad results. Some enthusiasts, apparently, who know that honey is a natural sweet and is a better energy food than refined sugar, must have stretched his imagination to say it could be used by diabetics.

We have a list of books on diabetes that are written by experts for the layman, which you had better have. G., if you are suffering from the disease, (Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with request.) Naturally, you should be under the personal supervision of a physician, as diabetes is no disease to trifle with.

One of the chief reasons I devote so much of my work to the prevention of overweight is to prevent diabetes, for overweight is a forerunner of diabetes in at least 75 per cent of those who are afflicted. If you are overweight, therefore, you had better send for our pamphlet on the subject. (Besides the fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, enclose 10 cents extra in coin for this, to cover cost of printing and handling.)

Your question on honey, G., reminds me of a statement I read myself in one of the New York papers, in an article on reducing. The statement was to the effect that honey could be used freely by those reducing, for it was not fattening. Not fattening! My word, it is nothing else but. Honey registers 100 calories to approximately an ounce, which measures but one tablespoonful (it is heavy). And believe me, every calorie of it can be converted into fat if it happens to make your caloric intake more than you need. However, there is no reason why you should not take some honey while reducing, if you like it; simply count it in your allowance of foods.

While we are on honey, I might as well review it a little more. Honey consists of a mixture of the nectars gathered from flowers by bees, changed somewhat by the honey bee, and

THIS WOMAN FOUND RELIEF

After Long Suffering by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

In a little town of the Middle West, was a discouraged woman. For four months she had been in such poor health that she could not stoop to put on her own shoes. Unable to do her work, unable to go out of doors or enjoy a friendly chat with her neighbors, life seemed dark indeed to Mrs. Daugherty.

Then one day, a booklet was left at her front door. Idly she turned the pages. Soon she was reading with quickened interest. The little booklet was filled with letters from women in conditions similar to hers who had found better health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I began taking the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Daugherty writes, "and after I took the third bottle, I found relief. I am on my eleventh bottle and I don't have that trouble any more, and feel like a different woman. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to everyone I see who has trouble like mine. I am willing to answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. E. DAUGHERTY, 1208 Orchard Ave., Muscatine, Iowa.

Noted Authority
Speaks Friday To
Woman's Division

The Hon. Sara Graham-Mulhall will be the speaker at a special dinner to be given at the chamber of commerce Friday evening at 6 o'clock by the woman's division.

Miss Mulhall is the greatest living authority on narcotic addiction, her book, "Opium, the Demon Flower," being recognized as the greatest authoritative book ever published on this subject. She is a woman of great ability and deep feeling who has given all her powers to fighting this evil that has grown to such proportions that it menaces every home. It is significant that the increase of drug addiction among the young parallels the increase of crime and criminals among the boys and girls.

This is a matter that should interest every woman who cares for purity, truth and honor. The matter will be presented at this meeting in a way to deeply interest every woman who cares to make the world safe for the young.

A Georgia products dinner will be served and every woman desiring to hear this address is invited to come whether a member or not of the division. The price is 75 cents a plate. Call up the executive secretary of the division, Mrs. Colvin, at Walnut 0845, and make your reservations early Friday morning.

Business Women
To Hold Meeting.

The Business and Professional Women's club of Atlanta meets at the Winwood hotel Wednesday, January 11, at 6 o'clock. This is the first meeting of the club in 1928 and as the election of officers will take place each member is urged to be present.

Invitations Received
To Democratic Reception.

Invitations have been received by a number of prominent Atlantans from the Woman's National Democratic club to a reception Wednesday evening, January 11, at 9 o'clock at the clubhouse in Washington, D. C., the occasion to honor members of the democratic national committee.

DeKalb League
Meets Friday.

The DeKalb League of Women Voters meets Friday, January 6, at the courthouse at 3 o'clock. Mrs. James Ely and Miss Eva Richardson hostesses. The subject for the afternoon will be "Education in DeKalb County." Representing the different schools will be: Agnes Scott, Miss Katherine Torrence; Emory, Miss Mary Torrence; Columbia seminary, Mrs. Richard Gillespie; Oaklawn, Mrs. W. H. S. Hamilton; county

Mr. and Mrs. King,
Of Ancon, Panama,
Visit Atlanta

Among the interesting visitors in the city are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. King, of Ancon, Canal Zone, Panama, who are spending a few days at the Atlanta Biltmore. Their wedding was a brilliant social event, taking place last week in Denver, Colo., where Mrs. King, who was formerly Miss Emilie Engelbach, has been a popular belle of society and is a member of one of Colorado's most prominent families.

Mr. King, a leading financial figure of the Canal Zone, is well known in Atlanta and has a wide circle of friends here who will be interested in his marriage. An informal reception was held at the Biltmore Thursday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. King, when a group of their friends called.

Mr. and Mrs. King will leave today for New York, from where they will sail for an extensive tour of Europe and will visit the battlefields of France, Germany and Belgium.

Representing the city schools, W. H. Rainey, city school; Mrs. James Ely; East Lake (independent schools), Miss Eva Richardson; League members and friends are invited to be present.

ALLEN'S REMOVAL
SALE!

There are no two ways about this matter of clearing stock in our removal sales. The rules are hard and fast-fixed by a determination to make the move lightly, to carry no fall and winter merchandise with us to the Peachtree Store, and to show in that new and spacious place only the smartest of the smart, the newest of the new in coats and dresses and furs. That is our New Store Resolution!

Fur-Trimmed Coats

Priced as Low as

Smart Silk Frocks

RADIO-ING

The Air Waves.

BY WILL SMITH.

It is rather pleasing, in this age of frantic search for variety, to be able to fall back upon such excellently arranged programs as came to us Thursday night, under the auspices of the Maxwell House Coffee company and that of the Emory quartet sponsored by the Utah Products company and McDonough Brothers.

It seems to the Dial Twister that we really do not need so much variety as we find the vast majority of broadcast stations striving for, and that is why, when we hear such programs as the Maxwell and Utah hours we feel they stand out like beacons, lights in an otherwise rather dull and dreary world of entertainment.

Variety has been set up on a pedestal as the one goal to be achieved. The means used to secure it are devious and dull. Variety is necessary, of course, but there are other sorts of variety than that of the vaudeville show.

Radio and the Stage. Vaudeville has its place in the scheme of our existence. We go to see it—not so much to hear it—and therein lies the difference between radio and the theater. In the theater, however, we find the highest type of showmanship, a quality sadly lacking in regular broadcasts.

Program directors do not seem to realize that music, real music, contains within itself all the variety that is necessary. If more program arrangers only realized this fact, the greatest part of their work has already been done for them by the great composers.

The Emory Four, entirely made up of local talent, possesses, it seems to the Dial Twister, the very necessary thing many of the most expensive broadcast organizations lack, and that is the ability to choose charming musical numbers that contain just the proper amount of variety.

Practically every hour of program furnished by the average run of broadcast stations is a variety program; in the sense that one can feel the eternal striving for the thing that makes vaudeville successful, but which is absolutely unnecessary to the success of a radio program.

Variety Sues Variety. And where every program is a variety program would it not be a variety to introduce a program that is not a variety show? To the rising tide of sponsored programs is due the blame, we believe, for the overwhelming large number of variety programs which are rapidly reducing radio to the level of a gigantic and worthless vaudeville show.

In any schedule of entertainment it is the light and frivolous item, introduced to break monotony, that is the brightest thing on the program. This principle is borne in mind by the advertiser.

THE CONNOISSEUR

Mr. Van de View is always late and simple is the reason—He received so many mufflers in the merry Christmas season That he spends a weary hour or two in tearing at his hair Till he finally decides upon the one he wants to wear.

For a scarf is quite important to appearance after all. And the one which has the pattern of the diamonds big and small He considers with approval till he thinks about the rest And he feels it is his duty to select the very best.

Christmas Mufflers Make Mr. Van de View Tardy

Now the checked one he wants to take for reasons sentimental (For the color and the pattern of the scarf are incidental)—When there dawns upon him suddenly the fact he has a date With Amelia, and the muffler was a Christmas gift from Kate.

Now Amelia might have given him a silken muffler, too, And remembering is difficult for Mr. Van de View But he looks upon the table and his lucky eyes alight On the one that she presented him—a stunning black and white.

GAINS INSTEAD OF
PRICE BREAK

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago, January 5.—(AP)—Grain market and statements by a prominent speculator regarding general grain trade conditions. In most quarters a decidedly bullish construction was placed on the statements concerning grain trading.
Final quotations on wheat were unsteady, 3-4c to 1-1c net lower, corn
3-5c to 5-8c off, oats 1-4c to 1-2c to 1-2c decline.
More than 2c a bushel drop in wheat values took place from the day's top level. Closing prices were at virtually the bottom figures reached. Observers differed as to whether the action of the stock market today or the bullish sentiment resulting from discussion of the grain market outlook by a leading operator was chiefly responsible. Earlier the european grain prices were showing an upward trend, helped by advice that trans-Atlantic wheat import needs have been seriously underestimated.
Selling pressure broadened out rapidly, however, on the price upticks in the wheat market. Meanwhile, wheat demand for North American wheat was reported to be a standard, although there were intimations that the Canadian growers pool had sold considerable wheat abroad direct to the United States, notice was taken of larger than last week and a year ago. Buying power today in the wheat market was reported to be more active than in the past, the market showing the effect of recent buying on the part of traders who previously had been conservative.
Corn and oats gave way with wheat and stocks. There were assertions that corn territory east of Chicago was underling this market.
Provisions reflected a sharp setback in hog values together with larger arrivals of hogs than for any time in a year.

INCREASED RATES
ON SUGAR HELD
UNJUSTIFIABLE

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington, January 5.—(AP)—Proposed increases in rates to Oklahoma points on sugar imported through
New Orleans and through Texas ports were held unjustified today by the interstate commerce commission. Railroads which participated in making the schedules last April were ordered to cancel them, but at the same time were given permission to file new proposals for rate changes on the traffic.
The schedules cancelled today do not affect the movement of domestically produced or refined sugar. They originally were proposed in an attempt to comply with a commission decision prescribing the relationship as between Texas ports and New Orleans in the rates on export and import commodities.

Market Gossip

News From Wall Street and New York

Editorial Comment
Furnished by Fennor & Beane.

STOCK BROKERS' OPINIONS.

Fennor & Beane—We believe decline in market rates fortifies the stock market against anything more than a temporary reaction.

Newman Bros. & Wornum—Believe opportunity is still afforded by the purchases of selected issues in temporary weakness.

Pringle & Whitely—Considering all factors the market still shows a rising trend, though trading may continue to skip from place to place.

F. R. Kerch—We do not consider the present a propitious time to sell motor stocks.

Josephthal & Co.—looks like higher prices with speculative leading after some unemployment.

Brookover & Weeks—It seems to be largely a question of following activity in the specialties. There is a reasonable background of attractiveness.

NEW YORK SUN.

The volume of trading on the stock exchange today was the largest since March 3. Cars, and was over 300,000 shares below the record. Prices opened a little under the previous day's closing, moved up, then reacted the rest of the morning. By noon nearly all of the best known investment issues had risen 2 or 3 points, while at least two stocks had been set back more than 10 points. A recovery set in early in the afternoon, which halted most of the losses, but another selling wave near the close brought some prices back almost to the day's lows. No real break developed in the standard stocks. The market's early weakness was undoubtedly due chiefly to the stock exchange's December report on brokerage losses. The increase to $41,000,000, which the report showed many traders ready to unload stocks at the first sign of a reaction. Support was afforded, however, by a further decline in the call money rate from 41 to 4 per cent, and the market began a few minutes after the change was made. Late in the afternoon the supply was so abundant that outside loans were being placed at 7 1/2 per cent.

Trading was evenly distributed and the standard leaders of various groups nearly all declined between 1 and 3 points. In this number were General Motors, New York Central, American Can and Montgomery Ward. International Harvester, Chrysler and Brooklyn Edison and Otis Elevator suffered even more severely. Grease Chemicals and Middle West began a few minutes' rally, respectively, but both recovered substantially.

WALL STREET JOURNAL.

Pretend for a general reaction was afforded today by loan figures of the stock exchange members.

Barish professionals again studied the market in speculative activity excessive proportions. Dealers in the loan crowd were extremely active in the market, and were also taken to mean by the market. The market was punishment administered.

Operating on this theory, they forced an aggressive drive in principal trading stocks. Substantial gains were made in the market, while peripheral stocks were forced to follow. The market was not in large numbers by these and trading money to improve one time the tape was not so much as the market was swamped with business.

However, the market developed a reaction in the early morning a reduction in call money rate, and a reaction in the market. The market was not in large numbers by these and trading money to improve one time the tape was not so much as the market was swamped with business.

Doty Finds Prison Life NATIVE GAMBLERS FIGHT CONTINUALLY In Citadel Far From Dull

This is the 14th of a series of articles by Bennett J. Doty, American boy whose valiant service in the French Foreign Legion and his subsequent desertion, imprisonment and release have made him a figure of world interest. Doty relates his remarkable experiences, and describes life in the famous prison from the "inside" as it is lived by the private.

BY BENNETT J. DOTY.

(Written exclusively for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance.) (Copyright 1928, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

After eleven days in the guard-house at Deera, following our capture as deserters, we were taken out and chained two by two, one man's left wrist to the other's right, and sent up to Damascus in care of a company gendarme. We were marched to the citadel, searched, questioned again. The prison was a large room cut into cubicles with wooden partitions. John Harvey and I were put into one of these. Weisser and Lass into another.

The building was the old Turkish citadel, and the place was crowded with Syrians, Arabs, Druse, Senegalese, Tunisians, Algerians, Moroccans and Frenchmen. The legion was well represented.

Syrian Serving 100-Year Sentence.

The prisoners were in for every conceivable crime. One Syrian had told me proudly he had killed twenty gendarmes. He was only sixteen. They hanged him a week later in the public square. A couple of Syrians were serving 100-year sentences for furnishing information to the enemy, for rebellion and other military crimes.

Like all prisons in Syria, the place was infested with all the insect pests. Our routine was simple. At 4:30 in the morning a gendarme got us up by beating on the wooden wall with his riding crop. We had coffee and were driven up onto the roof for exercise. At 9:30 a twenty-gallon bucket of soup appeared, with four inches of grease on top of it.

Once a week we were taken down to the river which runs beneath the citadel, and allowed to wash our clothes. Once a week we had a hot shower.

Natives Inevitable Gamblers.

We did most of our sleeping in the day. When the bugs didn't keep us awake, the card players and hashish smokers did. All the natives are great gamblers. If it wasn't the card games it was the smokers. They got hashish some way or another. This they either smoked or drank in their tea. It seemed to have exactly the same effect as booze on them. Some sang, others fought. The best of the lot went to sleep.

I had been in the citadel about a week when Mr. Keeley, American consul, looked me up. A newspaper correspondent I had met at Suzeid had sent a story announcing I was to be shot by the council of war. We never had any such fear. We knew we could be punished if we were caught, but we never expected it would be anything worse than a couple of years in prison.

The first news my parents had of my plight was through the consular office. My father had called Mr. Keeley, who himself thought we were in imminent danger of the firing

WILLIAM H. POLLARD, LABOR LEADER, DIES

William H. Pollard, 48, of 105 Baker street, N. W., president and one of the founders of the Building Trades council, business agent of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and for the trades council, and outstanding figure in labor organizations of the city for many years, died Thursday night at a private hospital following an illness of several months.

Funeral services for Mr. Pollard will be held tonight at 7 o'clock from the chapel of J. Austin Dillon company on South Peachtree street. The Rev. C. R. Stauffer will officiate. The body will be taken to St. Louis, Mo., at 7:10 o'clock Saturday morning for interment.

Mr. Pollard had been in failing health for more than ten months, had been treated in several Atlanta hospitals and was given special treatment at the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore for several months during last year.

Not only did he take an active part in the building trades council and Electrical Workers' union, but he was interested in practically every labor organization in the city. He was a member of the executive board of the Atlanta Federation of Trades and had been business agent of the Electrical Workers' union since 1916.

Mr. Pollard is survived by his wife, his father and two brothers, all of Atlanta.

MRS. MARY A. WARD DIES IN CALHOUN; FUNERAL TODAY

Calhoun, Ga., January 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary A. Ward died Thursday morning at her home here following a stroke of paralysis which she suffered last Friday.

Mrs. Ward was the widow of William A. Ward, who, having moved here from Resaca a number of years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted at the First Baptist church here today by Rev. W. J. Barnett and Rev. J. T. Eakes with interment in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Ward is survived by the following children: Virgil C. Ward, of Shidler, Okla.; George A. Ward, Resaca; Frank A. Ward, Atlanta; Mrs. Herman Adams, Cartersville; Mrs. C. P. Worley, Macon; Mrs. F. M. Mote and Miss Winnie Ward, of Calhoun.

HIT-AND-RUN AUTO INJURES AGED MAN

Hyman Cohen, 73, of 637 Crew street, was taken to Piedmont hospital early Thursday night with six fractured ribs, a broken left arm and possible internal injuries as the result of being struck down by a "hit-and-run" autoist at Washington and Vassar streets.

Information given by Call Officers C. E. McCrary and J. A. Brown, Cohen was crossing Washington street when a high-powered car, traveling south on Washington street at a rapid rate of speed, struck down the aged man and sped away. A description of the automobile was furnished officers.

B. C. Adams, of 1068 DeKalb avenue, and C. M. McMullen, of 1036 Donnelly avenue, S. W., were injured early Thursday night at Decatur and at the First Baptist church here. They were riding along with a machine driven by F. M. Argo, of 314 Highland avenue.

Call Officers W. D. Wallace and W. M. Holland were told that McMullen was driving east on Decatur street and that Argo was driving in the opposite direction on the left side of the street. A case of drunk and reckless driving was made against Argo.

CHARLES H. ARNOLD, FORMER ATLANTAN, DIES IN CALIFORNIA

The body of Charles Homer Arnold, 76, former Atlantan and widely-known here, who died on December 27 at his home in Los Angeles, will be brought to Atlanta at noon Sunday for funeral services, with interment in Palmetto. Mr. Arnold, who moved to California about seven years ago following his retirement from business, died unexpectedly after an illness of two weeks.

Born near Palmetto, in Campbell county, he came to Atlanta as a young man and engaged in the wholesale grocery business. About 25 years ago he became identified with the Arnold Hat company, wholesalers, continuing that connection until his retirement.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son.

You Can Now Buy MILLER TIRES

—and Pay as You Ride

Let us put these fine tires on your car—just make us a small cash payment and pay the balance weekly, semi-weekly or monthly, anyway suits us.

Miller tires can withstand the hardest wear of the road and keep going. Scientifically correct with three big features—one-piece tread and side wall eliminates cracks and side wall separation. Road-shaped tread eliminates spotty, uneven wear. Uniflex cord construction does away with excessive inner heat. One year your car will prove Miller superiority.
